WRITING EXPERTS TESTIFY IN LINGAFELTER FORGERY TRIAL

Defense Offers Testimony to Show That James F. Lingafelter Didn't Sign Crawmer Names.

Case Will in all Probability be Given to the Jury on Saturday Afternoon.

Recorder J. W. Rutledge Called by State to Testify to Some Startling Matter---Arguments Will be Made to The Jury Tomorrow Morning in Knox County Court House.

(By Wire from Staff Correspondent.)

Mt. Vernon, O., Feb. 24—The James F. Lingafelter forgery trial is nearing the end. The lawyers expect to finish the introduction of testimony this evening and tomorrow morning will be occupied by the attorneys in argument.

It is thought that case will go to the jury early in the afternoon, about the same time that Robert's case was subsubmitted to the jury just one week ago.

The state finished its case last evening and its last witness was a writing expert from Columbus who was positive that Lingafelter had written the disputed Crawmer signatures. Today the defense introduced a Cleveland writing expert who was equally sure that the defendant had not written the names.

The defense has offered much testimony during the day in an effort to show that the forged signatures are not in James F. Lingafelter's handwriting, and the character witnesses follow. The state is to close with rebuttal testimony and it is here that a big sensation is to be sprung late this afternoon.

Recorder James W. Rutledge is here this afternoon having been called by the prosecution. That he is to testify to some unusual fact Mr. Rutledge admitted to the Advocate man this afternoon, but naturally Mr. Rutledge declined to say what the nature of his evidence will be. Unless present plans are changed, it is said that Mr. Rutledge will tell something startling.

J. F. Lingafelter took the stand at 2:40 this afternoon.

EXPERT BAUDER

Cleveland Man Testified for the Defense at Forgery Trial Friday Morning.

(By Wire from Staff Correspondent.)

Mt. Vernon, O., Feb. 24—The first witsess in the J. F. Lingafelter forgery trial called today was Frank A. Bolton, president of the Board of Public Safety, who testified that he was familiar with J. F. Lingafelter's handwriting. He said that the particular characeristic of the defendant's writing was a separation between the "a" and "g" of the word Lingafelter. He was cross-examined by Mr. Fitzgibbon and stuck to his original testimony.

Judge Charles W. Seward of Newark, as a matter of courtesy, was invited by Judge Coyner to sit upon the bench with him. Of course Judge Seward has nothing to do with the case, being subpoenaed here as a witness.

The next witness after Mr. Bolton was Levi Bauder, who qualified as a handwriting expert. His home is in Cleveland and he stated that for six years he had been auditor of Cuyahoga county. He said that he had testified and had brought to light the famous Morey letters which were pronounced forgeries in the Garfield presidential campaign. He stated that he had seen every man's signature in Cuyahoga county whose name was worthy to be on the tax duplicate there. He stated the characteristics of the handwriting in the alleged forgery as compared with the admitted handwriting of James F. Lingafelter, indicated that the two had not been written by the same person. In qualifying as an expert he testified that he had been a witness in one hundred law suits as an expert, and had given three-hundred private opinions of disputed handwriting. He said he had been called by the defense in the famous Madame De Vere case, since proven to have been Mrs. Chadwick, which was tried in Toledo, and also in the Blinkey Morgan murder case.

The witness made all his examination of handwriting submitted to him through a microscope. He testified that the Crawmer signature looked as if it had been written in a feminine hand, whereas Lingafelter's handwriting was peculiarly masculine in character. He said that it was impossible in his opinion for Lingafelter to have made the same character of the letter "H" as it appears in the disputed signature. He said that any person will follow the general character of his signature and will at some place betray his own characteristics. If the disputed signature was a forgery it was not done by a professional but an amateur forger. He said that a professional forger first made an examination and became so familiar with characteristics of the name he wished to forge, that he would write the name off hand. The disputed signature, in his opinion had been written by a person who, at the time, was off his guard. He did not think that Mr. Lingafelter had written the disputed signaure.

On cross examination by Prosecutor Fitzgibbon, the witness admitted that there was a general character in the alleged forged signature, that corresponded with the handwriting of Jas. Lingafelter. Court then adjourned for the noon recess.

Friday Afternoon's Session.

(By Wire from Staff Correspondent.)

Mr. Vernon, Feb. 24—The first witness this afternoon was Dr. A. T. Speer, of Newark. He testified that he had lived in Newark all his life and was a practicing physician there. He was asked by Lawyer Smythe, whether or not he had ever received a check drawn on the Newark Savings bank for $500. The state objected. The defense, in the argument of the objection, stated that they expected the witness to say he had never received any such check. The court, however, sustained the objection on the ground that it was immaterial in this case. Dr. Speer was not cross examined and was excused.

Captain F. G. Warden was the next witness and was examined by Phil B. Smythe. He testified that he had known the defendant for 20 years, that he had had opportunities of becoming acquainted with his handwriting, and that he didn't think the H. O. and Blanche Crawmer signatures were written by the defendant.

On cross-examination by Mr. Fitzgibbon he testified that he was not a handwriting expert and had never seen any of Lingafelter's handwriting except that which had been written in a natural hand, without any attempt to disguise it.

T. B. Fulton, cashier of the Peoples National bank, was the next witness. He testified that he didn't think Jas. F. Lingafeler had written the disputed signature.

David H. Pigg was the next witness. He was shown the signatures in question and stated that from his knowledge of Lingafelter's handwriting the defendant had not written them.

Joe Miller, the next witness this afternoon testified to the same effect.

U. O. Stevens, George T. Nash and Herbert Atherton, ex-Mayor and a former director in the Building Association, and B. A. Byrnes, assistant cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' bank in Mt. Vernon, and S. W. Severns were all shown the signatures and testified that in their opinion Jas. F. Lingafelter didn't write them. The names of several witnesses were called, and, on account of the B. & O. train being late, they had not yet arrived in Mt. Vernon. After some delay Mr. Owen said: "Mr. Lingafelter may take the stand. We did not intend to put him on at this point, but we do not wish to delay the proceedings."

Immediately every one in the vast audience became still, and prepared to hear every word of the defendant's testimony. A profound quiet prevailed, and the scene was one of intense dramatic interest. He stood on the platform with his right hand raised and said, that "before Almighty God he would tell the whole truth in the case, in which the State of Ohio was prosecuting James F. Lingafelter."

Lingafelter, who took the stand at 2:40 this afternoon testified that he was born in Licking county and had lived in Newark since 1869. He said he had enlisted in the army in 1864 and had been assigned to Co. G, 25th O. V. I. and served during the war. The state objected to this testimony.

The defendant was cool and collected and in a deliberate way answered hte questions put to him. Lingafelter is on the stand at 3 o'clock. He will be rigidly cross examined.

Several character witnesses have arrived from Newark. It is possible a session of court may be held tonight, but at this hour it is not definitely known.

WRITING EXPERT

Positive That James F. Lingafelter Signed the Disputed Names—No Night Session Held.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Mt. Vernon, O., Feb. 24—No night session of the Lingafelter trial was held last evening after all. When the time for the evening adjournment approached the court found that sufficient progress had been made to warrant the belief that the case could be ended this week without holding an evening session of court and both the judge and the lawyers, as well as the jurors were tired out by a hard day's work.

W. H. Smith of Knox county was on the stand at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Smith said he was not an expert on writing, but was of the opinion that Lingafelter had written the disputed signatures of Mr. and Mrs. Crawmer.

The next witness was W. H. Pengally, the Columbus bank cashier who is an expert on writing. Mr. Pengaly testified positively that Lingafelter had written the signatures of H. O. and Blanche Crawmer, and he supported his declaration with reasons. Mr. Pengally analyzed the writing and gave much technical testimony to show why he has decided the writing was that of the defendant. He pointed out the similarity between Lingafelter's acknowledged writing and that of the disputed signatures. He showed that this similarity was most striking in the letters "H" and "O". Mr. Pengally made a good witness for the state and his testimony was not shaken by the rigid cross examination to which he was subjected by Mr. Owens for the defense.

The prosecution rested its case at 4:15 yesterday afternoon and the defense at once made a motion to take the case from the pury on the ground that the state had failed to make a case against Lingafelter. This motion was promptly overruled by Judge Coyner and exceptions were noted by the defense.

The Defense Begins.

The first witness for the defense was Mayor Andrew J. Crilly of Newark. Mr. Crilly stated that he was familiar with the writing of the defendant and he gave it as his opinion that the disputed Crawmer signatures were not written by Lingafelter. As 'Squire Crilly was leaving the stand Mr. Fitzgibbon said: Just one more question, Mr. Crilly. Wasn't Mr. Lingafelter on your bond?"

"Yes, sir."

Frank T. Maurath, city auditor of Newark, was next called. Mr. Maurath said that he had opportunity to become familiar with the writing of the defendant and he expressed his belief that Lingafelter had not written the disputed names. The cross examination developed nothing new.

William H. Davis, ex-county treasurer, testified to the same effect.

Justice of the Peace James R. Atcherley was the last witness of Thursday afternoon. 'Squire Atcherley said that he was familiar with the writing of James F. Lingafelter and he said that in his opinion he did not sign the Crawmer names to the receipts.

Upon cross-examination Mr. Atcherley said that he was a brother-in-law of B. G. Smythe, one of the lawyers representing the defendant.

At this point Judge Coyner said that no night session would be held as the case could be concluded this week without it. At 5:25 p m court adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

COUNTESS

On Trial for Murder Breaks Down and Contradicts Herself.

Turin, Italy, Feb. 24.—The military guard, watching over the Countess Theodolina Bon Martini and her alleged confederates in the murder of the Countess' husband, has been strengthened because of the reported conspiracy to abduct the Countess. The examination of Rosa Bonetti, charged with being an accomplice in the murder, was begun today. The prisoner broke down. Her testimony was full of contradictions and fresh versions of what actually happened, so that it was next to impossible to get at he facts in the case.

TRIAL A FARCE

Twenty-Two Russians Convicted But All Will Escape Punishment.

(Bulletin.)

Kishineff, Besarabia, Feb. 24.—The trials of thirty-one Christians, charged with the murder of Jews, during the riots here in the spring of 1904, have been completed. Nine prisoners were acquitted and the remaining 22 were sentenced to nominal terms of one month's imprisonment each. Under the Czar's amnesty manifesto, issued at the birth of the Czarevitch, these twenty-two will also escape punishment.

HUNDRED BODIES

Recovered from Virginia Mine and the Work of Rescue Continues—Many More in the Mine.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 24.—Nearly 100 bodies have been recovered from Virginia mines, and the rescue work continues. The foul odors from the decomposing bodies have now become so unbearable that the rescuers work in short relay, and hundreds of pounds of disinfectant have been used to make further work possible. Fifty-five funerals were conducted in the suburbs of Birmingham, all of which were for victims of the awful disaster. It is estimated that there are at least 25 more bodies to be taken out, and the rescuers have to finish up the "level" they are on now and open one more "level."

COURT MARTIAL

Of Captain Davidoff and Six Other Men Ordered by the Grand Duke Vladimir.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 24—Grand Duke Vladimir has ordered the trial by court martial of Capt. Davidoff, three other officers and three men in connection with the firing in the direction of Emperor Nicholas a charge of grape shot at the ceremony of blessing the Neva, on January 19.

BORN IN KENTUCKY

W. G. Shanks, Correspondent in Civil War and Later a New York Editor Died at Bermuda.

New York, Feb. 24.—The death at Hamilton, Bermuda, of William Franklin Gore Shanks, president of the National Press Intelligence company, who was well known in newspaper and financial circles in this city and for 11 years was city editor of the Tribune, was announced in a cable dispatch received here. Mr. Shanks was born in Shelbyville, Ky., in 1837. He was a correspondent with the armies of Grant and Sherman during most of the civil war, and was wounded while serving as a volunteer aide on the staff of General Rosecrans at the battle of Perryville. Since the war he has resided in Brooklyn. His body will be sent to Louisville for interment.

Coachman is Wanted.

Mont Clair, N. J., Feb. 24—Every effort is being made by the police to locate the coachman of Mrs. Hannah B. Ross, the aged recluse, whose charred body was found in the burned ruins of her home Tuesday. The police who believe Ross was robbed, murdered and the house set on fire to conceal the crime, are of the opinion that the missing coachman will be able to throw light on the case.

SPECIAL SESSION

The Senate Will Convene on Inauguration Day

PROCLAMATION BY PRESIDENT

Bill for Government of Canal Zone Passes Senate---River and Harbor Bill Passes Too.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The president issued a proclamation convening the senate in special session at 12 o'clock noon on March 4 next, "to receive such communications as may be made by the executive."

The measure providing a government for the Panama canal zone, which has just passed the senate, is a house bill. It was amended in several important respects by the senate, notably in eliminating the provision for abolishing the canal commission. The measure will now go to conference if the amendments are not accepted by the house. The bill is temporary in character, its provisions expiring at the end of the first regular session of the next congress. It vests in the president authority to appoint a person or persons to govern the canal zone, and the president is given further authority to direct the manner of such control. Annual or more frequent reports from the governor of the zone and also from those in charge of the canal are provided for, and also estimates for appropriations for all work on the canal, and it is provided that after the present fiscal year no money shall be expended except by direct appropriation. All rentals and other income from the Panama railroad are to be credited to the treasury canal fund, and the president is authorized to deposit $1,500,000 in an American bank having a fiscal agent on the isthmus of Panama for the purpose of facilitating business.

Authority is given to acquire by purchase or condemnation the remaining 1,036 shares of the stock of the Panama Railroad company for the benefit of the government.

River and Harbor Bill Passed.

Washington, Feb. 24—Without a dollar being added or subtracted, the river and harbor appropriation bill passed the house. The total amount carried by the bill is $17,234,057.

KRATZ SET FREE

Jury Which Tried Him for Bribery at Butler, Mo., Says That He is Not Guilty.

Columbus, O., Feb. 24—Senator Norman G. Overturf of Delaware, for whose nomination as lieutenant governor to succeed Warren G. Harding, a boom is under way, was a caller upon Governor Herrick at the capitol. On being asked regarding his candidacy, he said:

"It is now in the hands of my newspaper friends."

Another caller was former Speaker Pro Tem. Andrew G. Comings, of Oberlin, who is regarded as a candidate for secretary of state in 1906. Mr. Comings say the governor with relation to the appointment of a successor to Captain Aaron Waggoner, of Akron, as member of the board of penitentiary managers.

The reappointment of E. O. Randall of this city, and Prof. B. F. Prince of Springfield, as trustees of the Ohio Historical and Archaeological society for another term was announced by Governor Herrick today.

LIGHTED MATCH

Is Not a Good Thing to Use in Hunting for Leaks in a Natural Gas Pipe.

Richmond, Ind., Feb. 24.—The home of Henry W. Wickmeyer was destroyed by a natural gas explosion this morning when an employe of the gas company looking for a leak struck a match. Ezra Wickmyer, 12, was badly burned about the head, face and hands, and Thomas Shicly the gas inspector, about the head. Mrs. Wickmyer and four children escaped

Separate Schools Provided For.

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 24—Gov. Hoch has signed the bill providing for separate high schools for whites and blacks at Kansas City, Kas., which was passed as a result of the stabbing of a white pupil by a negro boy.

STANDARD OIL

Buying Independents in Kansas to Control Damaging Evidence.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 24.—The Standard Oil company has begun what is believed is a campaign to buy up every independent property in the Kansas field and at the same time acquire possession of all the damaging evidence that might be used against it in the coming investigation. This information is given out by Mayor E. N. Bowen of Independence, who says the Standard has acquired ownership of the Consolidated Oil and Gas company and the Interstate Oil and Gas company of Independence. Further, he says, it is reported the Standard has bought from I. N Knapp his oil, gas and tank line property, together with all of his books and records. This is taken to mean that the Standard has bid defiance to the government and the state, and from now on it will be open war.

OIL IN TEXAS

Federal Investigation of Present Conditions Desired by Lone Star Statesman at Austin.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 24. — It has developed that members of the Texas legislature are in correspondence with members of congress at Washington urging the federal government to come to Texas and investigate the operations of the Standard Oil company in this state. Senator Decker admitted on the floor of the senate that he had sent a telegram to Representative Campbell of Kansas urging him to have the federal authorities visit Texas, and he said he hoped his plea would not be in vain, inasmuch as he felt great good would come of such an investigation upon the part of the federal government.

OVERTURF BOOM

Is in the Hands of His Newspaper Friends, He Says—Delaware Man is a Candidate.

Butler, Mo., Feb. 24—The jury in the case of Charles Kratz on trial for alleged boodling while a member of the St. Louis city council returned a verdict of not guilty after being out an hour and thirty-four minutes.

As soon as the reading of the verdict was finished, Kratz burst into tears, repeatedly exclaiming, "I am glad. I knew in my conscience that I was innocent and am pleased and vindicated in my own mind. I am now free and have nothing hanging over me for the first time in three years. I made a mistake when I went to Mexico, but I did not think so at the time."

MILWAUKEE FIRE

One Man Killed and Five Were Buried Under Falling Walls There This Morning.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 24—Wm. Morgan, a fire lieutenant, was killed and five firemen were injured and property valued at $40,000 was destroyed in a fire today which started in the planing mill of the International Woodwork company. The firemen were buried beneath a falling roof.

NEW EVIDENCE

Against State Senator Against Whom There is a Charge of Attempted Bribery.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 24—The house investigating committee developed what members of the committee think very important new evidence against O. A. Baker, ex-state senator, against whom there is an affidavit charging the attempted bribery of Representative Lewis Baker in connection with the boodle bill. A warrant was placed in the hands of the police and subpoenas were sent in all directions, requesting police departments to arrest and hold O. A. Baker. The principal new evidence against O. A. Baker was given by Representative T. M. Geake of Fort Wayne. He told the committee that O. A. Baker had offered him a bribe.

ST. PETERSBURG, FEB. 24—Bulletin)—FIFTY THOUSAND EMPLOYES OF THE FIVE ST. PETERBURG FACTORIES ARE TODAY AGAIN OUT ON A STRIKE.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 24.—Dispatches from many cities in the south of Russia as well as in the Caucasus proper make this region the center of interest in the week's strike developments, though there have been sporadic strikes in all portions of Russia. The tie-up of railroads radiating from Moscow is a very serious feature of the situation. In the Caucasus region the authorities appear for the moment to have regained the upper hand, but the situation may at any time again pass out of their control. Even the reinforcements of the military in all the cities seems to have been inadequate to prevent the continuance of conditions tending to robbery, murder and terrorism.

Telegraphic communication has been restored to Batoum, and a dispatch received from that city indicates that the troops and authorities have regained control, but the marauders are unceasingly active, while strife continues and the whole population is in a state of panic. There is no news from Poti and Kutais, but it is presumed that they have also been temporarily pacified.

On the other hand other cities outside the Caucasus, such as Ekaterinoslav, Kharkoff, Saratoff, Alexandrovsk and many others, are in a condition of complete or partial disorder owing to strikes. The forces of law and order apparently have been unable to prevent the strikers from resorting to the tactics of their fellows in St. Petersburg and marching from shop to shop and forcing out every workman. Many government works in various parts of the country are included in the suspensions. Half of the workmen in Libau are on strike, seriously affecting the manufacture of military supplies.

The St. Petersburg workmen have temporarily resumed their occupations, while voting for members of the imperial mixed commission, but they are possessed of the spirit of unrest, and their sense of power is being fed by incendiary proclamations, the latest of which alludes to the emperor as "Nicholas the Last" and makes a rabid attack upon the government's motives.

General satisfaction is expresed, even among liberals, that the funeral day of Grand Duke Sergius passed off with no untoward incident. Even the extreme radicals respected the day of grief of the imperial family. The police precautions both here and at Moscow, though extensive, apparently were not needed.

Bombarded Port.

Constantinople, Feb. 24.—Extremely alarming reports are current here concerning the situation at Batoum and Poti. It is alleged that some vessels of the Black sea squadron (Russian) have bombarded Poti. An English merchant who has just arrived here says he was obliged to flee from Batoum, where his life was menaced by strikers and his office destroyed. This merchant says the authorities of Batoum are powerless. The strikers are all Georgians and are estimated to number 40,000. The steamship lines from Constantinople to Batoum have suspended service.

Murders at Baku.

Baku, Feb. 24 — The town is now quiet. All the Armenian shops have been closed, but the banks are doing business under military protection. Order has been restored at Balakhany, but at Romany strikers attacked two factories and as a result 50 persons were killed or wounded. In Baku many more murders have been committed. Manager Amoff of the naphtha refining works with his wife and children was burned to death. A legal official named Tarasoff and a bazaar owner named Lalaieff and the latter's family have been murdered.

Russians Think Something is Now Doing

WAR OFFICIALS ARE RETICENT

Count Cassini Says War Will be Waged With Vigor---Finding of Commission.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 24—Dispatches from the front today state that the Russians have turned all the villages on their right flank into fortified places with redoubts surrounded by wire entanglements. Both sides are preparing for early conflict.

Cruiser Breaks Down.

Copenhagen, Feb. 24—The Russian auxiliary cruiser Russie, one of the vessels of the Russian third Baltic squadron, returned when off the Skaw todaoy, owing to a break down in the machinery. She is now making for Libau to undergo repairs.

Activity at the Front.

Tokyo, Feb. 24—Official reports from the Manchurian front today say that the shelling of points in the vicinity of the Shahki river continue and that collisions between scouting parties of both armies also continue.

The Russian prisoners in Japan number 44,400, of whom 616 are officers.

Japanese Boats Sighted.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 24—General Kuropatkin reports that he has received word that twenty Japanese torpedo boats and one warship have been sighted off Vladivostok. It is believed here that the presence of the boats may presage the opening of the naval bombardment of Vladivostok for which the garrison there has been preparing for some weeks past.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 24.—A second day has passed without dispatches having been given out from General Kuropatkin, which is interpreted to support the rumors that great events are in progress in Manchuria. The war office, however, steadfastly maintains that there is no important news and that there have been no developments since the last dispatches made public, in which the commander-in-chief reported all quiet with the exception of minor operations towards the eastward.

The czar has elected to continue the war. His position is absolutely firm and foreign courts have been advised in that sense. The war will be pressed with the utmost energy, the domestic situation being now within the control of the authorities.

The intimation that the decision of the international commission on the Hull affair will be favorable to Russia is received with much quiet exultation in admiralty circles and by the St. Petersburg public, where it is felt to demonstrate the baselessness of "the senseless clamor" against Vice Admiral Rojestvensky. Naval officers always have maintained that there was another side to the question as it was presented by the press of Great Britain, and believed Rojestvensky was amply justified in taking all precautions for the safety of his fleet, especially in view of warnings, the seriousness of which apparently was not realized elsewhere, and were convinced that a commission of impartial experts would take the same view.

Finding of North Sea Commission.

Paris, Feb. 24. — The international commission appointed to inquire into the North sea incident practically concluded its work by finally agreeing to the report, which will be publicly announced at the closing session, to be held at 3 o'clock Saturday. Concerning the general nature of the report the following statement was made: "When the text of the decision becomes known it will be far more acceptable to the British press and public than they have been led to believe. The semi-official summaries appearing, while more or less accurate, tend too strongly to show Russian success, but as a matter of fact the admirals have sought a middle ground and the decision is not a pronounced victory for either side." On the other hand the Havas news agency says: "The conclusions as a whole are quite favorable to Russia. The report contains reservations calculated to satisfy British susceptibilities, the most important being that the commission esteems that the Russian fire lasted too long, and also that Rojestvensky should have [illegible] ily notified the British maritime authorities of the deplorable incident."

Cassini Says War Will Be Pushed.

Washington, Feb 24.—Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador said all [illegible] of peace was never [illegible] than now. The ambassador has had [illegible] tive information from the [illegible] officials in St. Petersburg that the war will be prosecuted with [illegible] vigor. It is expected that the General Kuropatkin with the [illegible] campaign will [illegible] view of the reinforcements [illegible] ceived. The emperor [illegible] confidence in his military [illegible] The peace talk can have [illegible] said Ambassador Cassini [illegible] ance of a Japanese loan [illegible] time for Japan to raise another loan and these rumors of peace generally begin at such a time. I can reiterate, in the light of recent advices I have received, in the most emphatic manner that the war in the far east will end when Russia is victorious, not a moment before. The recent disturbances in Russia, while annoying, can not in the slightest affect the government's foreign policy."

Mecca of Shipbuilders.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 24.—St. Petersburg is the Mecca at present of representatives of shipbuilders of various nationalities, who have been attracted hither by the prospect of rich contracts in connection with the rebuilding of the navy and the increase of the volunteer fleet. President Henry S. Grove of William Cramp & Sons' Ship and Engine Building company and a representative of the Bethlehem Steel company are already here. There are good prospects of American capital securing a good share of the contracts to be awarded, but up to the present time the only contract let has been to the French Compagnie des Forges at Chantiers.

Russian Author Arrested.

Moscow, Feb. 24.—The police arrested Leonide Andreeff, a well known author of the Gorky school, and two other less known writers. No statement of the reasons for the arrests is obtainable. The police refuse to say whether it is in connection with the assassination of Grand Duke Sergius or for complicity with Gorky and other liberals at St. Petersburg in connection with alleged revolutionary conspiracies. Andreeff is known as "Little Gorky."

STATE AFFAIRS

Painesville Boy Who Killed His Father

DISCHARGED BY JURY TODAY

Leach Returns With Chadwick Gems ---Judge Collins' Will---Mrs. Harding's Operation.

Painesville, O., Feb. 4—Willie Avis, a young lad, who Sunday shot and killed his stepfather because the latter abused his mother was this morning discharged from custody after the coroner's jury rendered a verdict of justifiable homicide. The parent was drunk and bruatally treating his mother when the lad shot.

Mrs. Chadwick Refuses to Testify.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 24—Customs Collector Leash returned today from New York and Washington, bringing with him jewelry and valuables worth $50,000, which Mrs. Chadwick is accused of having smuggled into the country without paying duty. At the resumption this morning of the bankruptcy hearing Mrs. Chadwick refused to testify.

A Reynoldsburg Bride.

Columbus, O., Feb. 24—A marriage license has been issued to Mr. George H. Cheek of Columbus, and Miss Bernice S. Mathew of Reynoldsburg.

Gas Company is Sued.

Barnesville, O., Feb. 24—Suits have been brought against the Ohio Fuel Supply company for damages because of alleged negligence, causing an explosion of natural gas last week, aggregating $17,000. A house was totall destroyed and two men injured.

Judge Collins' Will.

Barnesville, O., Feb. 24—A new suit has been brought for construction of the will of the late Judge J. H. Collins, by the widow, Mrs. Harriet D. Colins, and will probably take the place of the action brought some time ago by the executor. The case will be heard during the April term.

Buying Out Independents.

Lima, O., Feb. 24—The Standard Oil company is taking rapid steps throughout the Ohio and Indiana fields to acquire desirable producing properties now owned by independents. Several big deals are pending here, and Joseph B. Mayer, a Lima capitalist, has disposed to the Ohio Oil company (the producing branch of the Standard) $30,000 worth of property in the Muncie deep-sand field. Also, recently purchased there by the Ohio are properties held by six independents, including acreage in Union, Niles and Hamilton townships, Delaware county and the holdings of the Fletcher Oil company on six producing wells and acreage. The total purchases aggregate, it is said, $200,000.

Operation Upon Mrs. Harding.

Marion, O., Feb. 21—Mrs. W. J. Harding, wife of the lieutenant governor, was taken to the Sawyer sanitarium this morning, where an operation for nephritis will be performed today by Dr. Baldwin of Columbus, assisted by Dr. G. T. Harding Jr., of Columbus and Dr. C. E. Sawyer and Dr. G. T. Harding of this city.

Harry Lerch Dead.

Lancaster, O., Feb. 24—Harry Lerch, assistant manager of the Godman Shoe compani's plant here, died on Thrusday.

A Newark Guest Present.

Zanesville, O., Feb. 24—Miss Maggie Holleran and Mr. Arthur Winn were married Wednesday evening at the parsonage of St. Thomas Catholic church. Rev. Father Shields officiated. A reception to 60 guests followed. The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dunmead of Adams Mills and Miss Ethel Edwards of Newark.

Zanesville Glass Plant Closed.

Zanesville, Feb. 24—A bursting of the main glass tank at the glass factory of the Kearns-Gorsuch Battle company Thursday caused the factory to close down two days ahead of the time expected. Owing to slack trade the company had decided to close the plant temporarily on Saturday.

Held for Contempt of Court.

Sidney, O., Feb. 21—At the German American bank bankruptcy hearing, Daniel Dickas and C. O. Dickas, stockholders, were examined. Daniel Dickas said he lost all his money in the bank except $1,000. This he transferred to his wife and children since the bank failed. C. O. Dickas transferred his eight shares of bank stock to his wife a few months before the failure. John E. Bush, another stockholder subpoenaed, failed to appear. G. H. Dickas who Wednesday refused to answer questions, was held for contempt of court.

Mrs. Chadwick's Oversight.

Goshall—As far as I can see Mrs. Chadwick's whole trouble results from one mistake.

Hemlock—What is that?

Goshall—She neglected to get incorporated under the laws of New Jersey. —Cleveland Leader.

AMERICAN SONGSTRESSES.

Our Women Singers Have Won Fame Both at Home and Abroad.

The list of women born in the United States who have become successful and distinguished singers in opera and concert is as noteworthy as that of any country in the world. Anna Louise Cary, in her time one of the great contraltos of both Europe and America, was born in the little Maine town of Durham. Emma Nevada's assumed name (she was a Miss Wixom) reveals her native state. Minnie Hauk, once the best known Carmen on the American stage, was a New Orleans girl, while Suzanne Adams was born in Cambridge, Mass.; Sybil Sanderson in San Francisco, Mrs. Genevieve Clark Wilson in Chicago, Gertrude Rennyson in Norristown, Pa.; Pauline Waltman in Rock Island, Ill., and Lucille Hill, Florence Finlayson, Maud Reese-Davis and Anna Hickish were all born somewhere in the United States.

Emma Eames is an American and passed her early years in Bath, Me., though she was born in Shanghai, China, where her father was a lawyer. Mme. Albani, a Canadian by birth, spent her girlhood in Albany, N. Y., and took her stage name from that of her adopted city, her name in private life being Lajeunesse. Mrs. Homer of the Metropolitan Opera House company, who came originally from Pennsylvania, has also been a prominent figure at Vichy and Brussels and in London.

Perhaps the best known and the most popular of all the great sopranos of the Metropolitan Opera company is Lillian Nordica, and Mme. Nordica is an American if there ever was one. She was born in Farmington, Me., her parents of the good old name of Norton. After her graduation from the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, where Mrs. Homer also graduated, she went to Milan and very soon appeared at Brescia, then in London, Paris, St. Petersburg and other European capitals, and now she is probably the best known Wagnerian singer in the world.

Among the American women singers who have made their reputation in Europe and have never been heard in this country is Geraldine Farrar, daughter of Farrar, the old baseball player, who has been the sensation of two seasons in Berlin, and Miss Marguerite Norri of Tennessee, whom America gave to the Italian stage.

Remaking Playing Cards.

Berlin has started a new industry. Old, stained playing cards, all those slightly soiled which have only been once or twice in use, are collected from hotels, clubs and a hundred other establishments in Germany, Austria, Hungary, Switzerland, and are cleaned and made as fresh as new. They are carefully rubbed with benzine on both sides and then after drying placed in presses, where they are rendered perfectly flat again. They are then sprinkled over with powdered white lead and placed in a warm press, where they receive the finish and shine lost in the fingers of the players. They then find their way into another press, where the edges are carefully cut. Before being put on the market they undergo, each card separately, a careful revision to see that they are all "as good as new."

Cats' Tails.

"Any cat has one more tail than no cat. Now, no cat has two tails; therefore any cat has three tails."

This is the latest sophism which the students of logic are asked to solve. It is a fake syllogism in which the phrase "no cat" is used in one sense in the major premise and in another sense in the minor and the conclusion of which is a fallacy. In the major "no cat" means the negation of a cat (a nonexisting cat). In the minor "no cat" is taken in the sense of "not one individual of the cat family." If the thing is read in that light it becomes silly nonsense. Yet the question seems to have raised just as much of a furore as the "How old is Ann?" puzzle.—Albany Journal.

A Wonderful Clock.

Richard Strutt, a son of Lord Rayleigh, has invented a clock that will run for 2,000 years. The motive power is a small piece of gold leaf which is electrified by means of a very small quantity of radium salt. The gold leaf bends away from the metal substance and keeps moving under this influence until it touches the side of the containing vessel. At the moment of contact it loses its electrical charge and then springs back and is again electrified, and the process is repeated. It is thought that a thoroughly reliable clock could be made with the use of radium salt for $1,000.

Wife Beating In Washington.

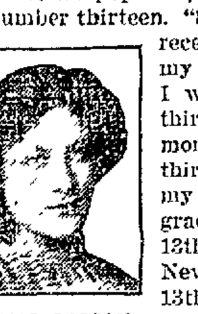

Of convictions for wife beating in the District of Columbia there were in the year 1900 124 cases; 1901, 104 cases; 1902, 122 cases; 1903, 118 cases, and in the year 1904, 127 cases. These figures do not include any case, of which there were quite a number, in which the wife withdrew the charge before trial and no conviction was had, but only cases where there were actual convictions either by a plea of guilty or trial by the court.—Report From Judge I. G. Kimball to the District of Columbia Commissioners.

Danger of Prophecy.

M. Rouvier, the new French premier, is a dangerous man about whom to prophesy. When he was a young man he left the Marseilles bank in which he was a clerk, his employer telling him that he would never get on in banking or finance. Since that famous valediction he has been five times minister of finance and president of one of the most successful banks in France. Not a bad record for a man who was declared to have no head for figures."—London Globe.

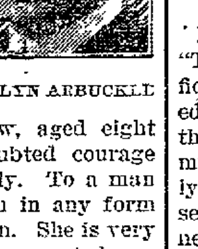

Tales Told By the Thespians

MISS ELEANOR ROBSON, who has made such a success in "Merely Mary Ann," comes of a family of actors. Her grandmother, Mrs. Evelyn Cameron, was a member of Macready's company, and her mother, Madge Carr-Cooke, is playing Mrs. Wiggs in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." Miss Robson does not share the popular prejudice against the number thirteen. "So far," she said recently, "it has been my lucky number. I was born on the thirteenth of the month; there are thirteen letters in my name; I was graduated on the 13th of June; left New York on the 13th of August to take my first ride in a sleeping car. I made my first appearance on any stage in San Francisco on the following 13th of September. Thirteen was the lucky number of the leading man in the company with which I played. I made my first hit in "Arizona" on the 13th. It was the thirteenth day when I made my first New York debut. It was followed the same season by two other debuts, all made on the 13th. I rarely go to a hotel that I do not get room 13."

ELEANOR ROBSON.

Maclyn Arbuckle of "The County Chairman" before be became an actor was a lawyer in the high grass district of Texas. He was a warm friend of the great humorist, Bill Nye, and tells many stories of the quaint personality and ready, bubbling wit of the litterateur. Arbuckle has a copy of the paper which Nye edited in Tombstone, Ariz., and the sheet is typical of Nye—filled with sly digs at his fellow townsmen and with a current of humor hidden in every line. The following advertisement appears in the columns: "Owing to my ill health I will sell at my residence in township 19, range 18, according to the government's survey, one plush raspberry cow, aged eight years. She is of undoubted courage and gives milk frequently. To a man who does not fear death in any form she would be a great boon. She is very much attached to her present home with a stay chain, but she will be sold to any one who will agree to treat her right. She is one-fourth Shorthorn and three-quarters hyena. I will also throw in a double barrel shotgun, which goes with her. In May she usually goes away for a week or two and returns with a tall red calf with wabbly legs. Her name is Rose. I would rather sell her to a nonresident."

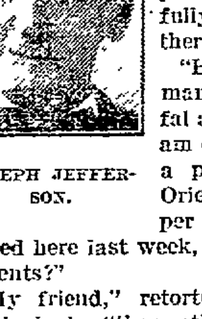

MACLYN ARBUCKLE

Joseph Jefferson tells the story of a theatrical manager who met the representative of an opera company.

"Mr. Purcifal," said the manager, according to the New York Times, "when you play at Ronoke visit the Hotel Innery. The landlord serves a splendid dinner at 50 cents a plate."

"Thank you for the suggestion," replied the other gratefully: "We play there next week."

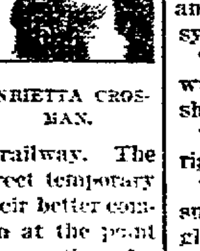

"How is this?" demanded Mr. Purcifal a week later. "I am charged 75 cents a plate, while the Oriental High Stepper company, which played here last week, had to pay only 50 cents?"

JOSEPH JEFFERSON.

"My friend," retorted the landlord convincingly, "those other people charged me but 50 cents to see their show; you demanded 75 cents."

Henrietta Crosman, who is now playing in "Sweet Kitty Bellairs," is very much afraid of fire and has good reason for such a feeling. She is the daughter of an army officer. Much of her girlhood was spent at posts on the frontier. Oftentimes her father took her and her mother on expeditions into wild parts of the country.

HENRIETTA CROSMAN.

On one occasion her father was at the head of a battalion of infantry and engineers sent by the government to establish a temporary post along the line of a proposed railway. The troops had planned to erect temporary wooden structures for their better comfort during their sojourn at the point and had completed the excavations for the cellars, but were still living in the tents, when one night a prairie fire came sweeping down on the camp.

The soldiers were quickly ordered into an adjacent patch of woods to tear off limbs and branches, and, armed with these, they were formed into a line and advanced toward the oncoming line of fire. The few women and little Miss Crosman were placed in one of the cellars as a protection from the smoke, which rolled over them in volumes. The fire had almost reached the camp when a current of air which came down a valley carried it off to the right, and the camp was saved at the moment when despair possessed all.

Years afterward Miss Crosman was stopping at the Baldwin hotel in San Francisco. "Oh, dear," she said one day, "I shall never feel satisfied while I am here. I have a presentiment that something is going to happen, and I am so afraid of fire."

She decided to leave the hotel on a Monday, and the following night the hotel was burned to the ground.

E. H. Sothern, who is co-star with Julia Marlowe in Shakespearean repertoire this season, tells a story about his father, who was famous years ago as Lord Dundreary.

The elder Sothern was a firm believer in the noisy audience. He considered that the play patron, if he was pleased with the entertainment, should demonstrate his pleasure. On one occasion he was playing in a small town where the manager of the theater had recently been to New York. He had visited the Madison Square theater, at that time under semireligious management, where dim light prevailed in the auditorium and loud applause was deemed decidedly indecorous. The manager returned to his town and gave a quiet "tip" on what was "the real thing" in New York theater manners. Sothern and his company played the first act without evoking a laugh or a "hand." When the curtain fell he listened for the customary call, but there was only silence—awful silence. Then, before the second act, he gathered his company and said: "We don't seem to be hitting 'em at all. We must pitch in for all we are worth in this act." Star and company worked like Trojans, but apparently without result. At the end of the second act the local manager went to Sothern's dressing room and began to congratulate him on his success and to tell him how delighted his audience was.

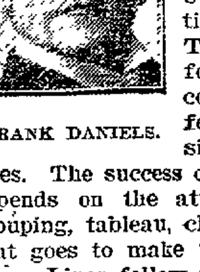

E. H. SOTHERN.

Sothern interrupted him. "Don't guy me," he said. "Why, I haven't heard any laughter or applause."

"Laughter! Applause!" returned the manager proudly as he drew himself to his full height and thrust his hand behind the breast folds of his coat. "I should hope not, indeed! There was one man snickered, but we put him out."

Frank Daniels, who is starring in "The Office Boy," was once a real office boy at $8.33 per month. "Comedy," he says, "is much more serious than tragedy and in many cases is much more difficult to render effectively. Comedy, to be effective, must be serious, must be studied, must be planned out with scrupulous care, with specific attention to the minutest detail. The most successful comedy parts that have ever fallen under my observation were those that had been planned with the most laborious efforts and that, although they may have seemed to be spontaneous, were merely the result of a careful and studied simulation of spontaneity. There is a reason for all this. Stage comedy finds its effectiveness more in situation than in lines. The success of those situations depends on the attention to detail, grouping, tableau, climax and all else that goes to make up the stage illusion. Lines follow them as a matter of course; hence I say that comedy is the most serious business in the world.

FRANK DANIELS.

"A young school of acting acquaintance of mine last summer probably shaped his future career on the stage by a remark he made to me, which suddenly revealed that the young man possessed a keen appreciation of humor. He came to me, telling me of his disappointment at his first attempt. 'I was to come on the stage stealthily and say, "Hist!"' he exclaimed. 'And?' said I. 'And I said it, and I was,' he mock pathetically concluded. I told him he was a comedian and ought to be hissed for undertaking serious work, and he immediately changed his course of study."

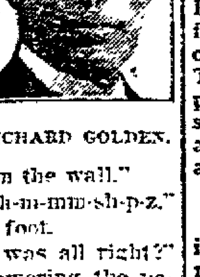

Richard Golden of Henry W. Savage's "Common Sense Bracket" company tells the following amusing instance of English "as she is spoken." The comedian had returned from a rehearsal and was sitting reading the paper. His wife came into the room and began twisting herself around in an effort to see the back of her new blouse. By the tense lines and pouting aspect about her lips he knew that her mouth was full of pins. He knew it anyway without looking for those symptoms.

"Umph-got wuff-wuff sh-thbf-fsy-f," she said.

"Yes, it looks all right," he answered.

"Owf-wuff gs-pf-suf-up-up w-r-r-roo-ghsth," she mumbled.

"Of course it does," he assured her, glancing over the top of the paper. "It fits like the paper on the wall."

RICHARD GOLDEN.

"Sw-ssh-uguz-woll gph-m-mm-sh-p-z," she said, stamping her foot.

"Didn't I tell you it was all right?" asked the comedian, lowering the paper. "Maybe it needs a little taking up in the shoulders, but nobody could notice it."

Hastily letting the pins fall from her mouth to her hand, she cried: "I've asked you three times to raise the window blind so that I could get more light. It's a pity you can't understand plain English."

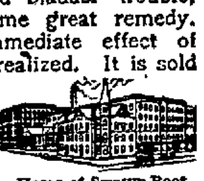

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Baby boy quickly healed.

Lisbon, N. H., April 22, 1904.

D. D. D. Company.

Gentlemen:—My baby boy is cured by your remedy. He has suffered from the terrible disease from birth which covered the entire body. He was in such fearful condition we had to tie his hands to keep him from tearing his flesh. All doctors and different advertised remedies had no effect in this case. When we began the use of D. D. D. it made the child look worse, but after a few days it began to scale, and in less than two months treatment the child was entirely cured. M. P. SIMONDS.

An aged man cured.

Findlay, Ohio, April 15, 1904.

D. D. D. Company.

Gentlemen:—I have doctored with four or five doctors and had eczema in the worst form for thirteen months. I have used eleven bottles of D. D. D. and am now completely cured. My age is sixty-two years. You may use this testimonial at your pleasure. Yours respectfully, H. WALTERS.

Thousands of people suffering from the terrible tortures of these diseases imagine they have some impurity in the blood, when, as a matter of fact, the blood has no more to do with this class of ailments than the eyebrows.

Skin Diseases

are wholly confined to the epidermis or external skin, and between the inner and external skins there are no blood vessels, hence the disease cannot come from the blood. Barrels of blood medicines can have no effect on these skin eruptions, for such medicines cannot reach the seat of the trouble. This class of diseases is caused by a germ or parasite which burrows into the external skin, there it lives, thrives and multiplies, and the inflammation they set up causes the awful itching and burning sensation.

The D. D. D. Remedy

is a liquid preparation applied externally—non-greasy—that penetrates the pores of the skin, destroys the germs or parasites and clears the disease entirely out of the skin, leaving a smooth, soft and healthy covering for the body.

D. D. D. costs but $1.00 per bottle and is guaranteed to cure any skin disease or money refunded. For sale and guaranteed by

LYBARGER--DRUMM

Wedding at the Residence of Rev. H. N. Miller, Pastor of the Central Church of Christ.

Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock at the residence of Rev. H. N. Miller were married Mr. Chester A. Lybarger of Newark, and Miss Bertha Drumm. Mr. Lybarger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lybarger of West Locust street, and is an employe in the Wehrle foundry. Miss Drumm is the daughter of Mrs. James Drumm of Black Hand. The young couple have many friends who wish them a long life and happiness. They will got to housekeeping in the spring.

OUTCALT-FLOOD

Former Granville and Newark Man Wins a Fair Bride at Lancaster, Ohio.

Lancaster, O., Feb. 24.—At 4:30 yesterday afternoon the marriage of Miss Anna S. Flood and Mr. James Outcalt was solemnized at St. Mary's parsonage. Rev. Father C. B. Teipe read the ring ceremony. They were attended by Miss Marian Scanlan and Mr. Frank Flood, brother of the bride.

The bride is a highly esteemed young lady, and since childhood has made her home with her uncle, Captain John Sears. She wore a pretty gown of blue voile over taffeta, hat en suite.

The marriage was followed by an elaborate supper, served the families at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Katharine Flood. The bridal table was beautifully flower-decked and covers were laid for eighteen guests.

Mr. Outcalt was formerly of Columbus, O., and the past season successfully managed the Lancaster base ball team. He is an efficient attache of the Lancaster Eagle, who with a circle of warm friends, unite in extending congratulations and best wishes for their future happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Outcalt will make their home with Captain Sears, 420 East Main street.

The out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. William Outcalt, father of the groom; Miss Lou Outcalt, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Holler, Miss Martha Holler of Columbus, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burkam of Granville.

Mr. Outcalt is a well known Granville young man. He attended Denison university and in the early '90s was a star ball player on the Denison team. He is well known in Newark and for a time was employed in the Newark Advocate press rooms. He has many friends both in Granville and Newark who will unite in extending their best wishes to him and his fair bride.

MARRIAGE.

Of Mr. Oda Adams and Miss Bertha Sparks at 245 Race Street Thursday Evening.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Sparks, 245 Race street, was the scene of a pretty home wedding Thursday evening. The contracting parties were Mr. Oda Adams and Miss Bertha Sparks. The words that made the twain one were spoken by Rev. L. C. Sparks in the presence of quite a number of guests. After the ceremony an elegant dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Adams are estimable young people who have many friends that join in extending to them best wishes. They will reside in this city.

Fatal Wreck.

Rio, Wis., Feb. 24.—A head-on collision between the Portage local passenger train and the Milwaukee and Chicago newspaper train occurred at the Rio switch. Brakeman Roland J. Dickey of the Portage train was killed and several other trainmen, including Conductor Michael McQuiney, were slightly injured. Both engines were wrecked. The engineers escaped unhurt. The result was owing to a misunderstanding of orders or the dense fog.

Missing Man Located.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 24.—Grove Walter, former assistant state attorney of Chicago, who mysteriously disappeared in Los Angeles several days ago and whose friends feared he had committed suicide, has been located in San Diego. Letters to friends here from him at that place admitted that he had made threats of suicide, but did not expect them to be taken seriously. He gave no explanation of his sudden disappearance.

Lost His Brains.

Hattiesburg, Miss., Feb. 24.—William Kane, a New Orleans man, who has just been removed from this place to the Meridian asylum, is physically vigorous but is without brains. Two months ago in a railroad accident his skull was partially torn away and his brains scattered about on the ground. He is now well, except that his brains can not be replaced.

Condemns the Standard.

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 24.—The lower house of the legislature adopted the resolution condemning the Standard Oil company, but amended it so as to eliminate that part referring to John D. Rockefeller's gift to the University of Nebraska. As passed, the resolution commends the legislation in Kansas.

The Japanese strictly enforce a law which prohibits the use of tobacco by boys under 20 years of age.

The Newark Elks have requested the reservation of box seats for the second performance of the Elks minstrel show to be held here soon. The second performance will be known as the "Elks night," and invitations have been issued to a number of neighboring lodges. It is quite likely that a large number of visiting Elks will be present on that night.—Coshocton Democrat and Standard.

At Central Church of Christ.

Last night's evangelistic service, with an able sermon by Evangelist Speer, preceded by the song service led by the chorus was most inspiring and greatly blessed. There was a large attendance, and when the invitation was given seven persons responded. Tonight's subject will be "Almost Persuaded." Service begins promptly at 7:15. A very cordial invitation is extended to all. A welcome awaits you. Come.

Seven Millions a Day.

The Ohio Fuel Supply well on the Henry Faucett farm in Harrison township, Knox county, some eight miles northeast of Utica, was recorded as showing five millions per day. It had never been cut into a line, but was blown off occasionally. A few weeks ago it was discovered to have "salted up" and the flow had failed entirely. The tubing and packer were drawn and the hole was cleaned out, and on Monday of this eek Wm. Morey gave it a shot of glycerine which brought wonderful results. Mr. Morey informed the Herald that an hour and a half after the shot the well was blowing at the rate of seven millions of feet per day.—Utica Herald.

LINGAFELTER ON STAND

Mt. Vernon, O., Feb. 24—At 3:20 this afternoon Lingafelter was still on the stand. Owen asked him what salary he received at Newark and what property he had, and whether it was encumbered. The state objected and the jury was excused while it was argued. The court sustained the objection. Lingafelter testified that Weber had never asked him about the Crawmer signatures.

It is now announced that there will be a session of court tonight.

IN THE COURTS

BUSINESS OF THE DAY FRIDAY IN PROBATE.

Matters in 'Squire's Court and Temple of Justice—No Session of Common Pleas Today.

In the case of Lewis A. Pierson vs. Isabel Pierson, the defendant has filed a motion in the Probate court wherein she asks the court to compel the plaintiff to make his petition more definite and certain, in the following particulars:

1. That he state the time and place, when and where every one of the facts stated in the second paragraph of his petition, occurred; that if he cannot state the time and place, then that he give the reason of his not being able to state the same.

2. That he state the time and place of the occurrence of the facts mentioned in the first sub-division of this motion as near as he can, and if he cannot give the exact time and place, then about the time and place.

3. That on page 7, 8 and 9 of the petition whereon he has stated certain facts as occurred on a a public place or a public street of Johnstown, O., that he set out what places and what street, this fact occurred.

4. That he state the time each one of the facts occurred which averred in the first paragraph on the 9th page of the petition. Hunter & Hunter, attorneys for defendant.

HOARDED MONEY

If a person hides away a few dollars in a secret drawer or puts them in a small iron safe, does he consider it an expense? If he deposits them and receives credit in his savings bank book, does he class it as an expense? Why is it that so many men look upon a life insurance premium as an expense, and can not be induced to believe that it is not When a person spends money for anything, it passes out of his possession. This is not the case with a life insurance premium. One deposits the money and it is kept for him awhile, and later it is given back again, with more added to it. It never passes out of his possession. It is his money just as much as if it were in a bank, and it is a great deal safer than if deposited in some banks. Give up the idea that insurance is an expense and see it in its true light. There is only one best company. The Equitable Life of New York, and it is the strongtst in the world. O. M. and J. R. Tucker, agents.

The Czar is reported to have decided that the war with Japan must continue, for the sole reason that he believes eventually his armies will be able to win a victory, and that it would therefore be cowardly to make peace now. This reason might have been satisfactory once, but it will have no weight with enlightened people in these days. It would be more courageous and honorable to make peace now than to insist upon sacrificing many thousands of lives in a struggle which promises to last for a long time to come, and in which there is no high principle involved. If Russia had a popular representative government it would under the existing circumstances decide for peace. If the soldiers of Russia and the men who are being dragged to the front to risk their lives and health in a struggle in which they have no interest were permitted to vote they would declare for peace. It is apparently evident, however, that the Czar and his foolish advisers will not be content until Kuropatkin has fought another battle and the Russian fleet has tried conclusions with the Japanese. Perhaps after these events have taken place the Czar may be sorry that he didn't conclude to make peace at this time.

Purity of Prepared Food.

Dr. Wiley, chief chemist of the department of agriculture, who aroused so much discussion by his statement that 85 per cent of all whisky sold in the United States was "doctored," now declares that treated with borax and boracic acid, food is detrimental to health. He has reached this conclusion after long continued investigation with the aid of twelve young assistants, popularly known as his "poison squad." These men, inmates of the government boarding house, were fed alternately on untreated and preserved foods, with results very strongly in favor of the food in its natural state. After eating chemically treated food for fifty days at a stretch the "squad" showed derangement of functions, causing flatulence, bleared eyes, continuous dull headaches and incapacity for brain work.

The department of agriculture, acting upon the information just gained, has ordered that after Jan. 2 next all food products imported into the United States must show upon their labels what preservatives, if any, are used in their preparation other than the accepted "cures"—salt, sugar, vinegar and wood smoke. The department does not contemplate the exclusion of chemically treated foods, but it insists that every one has the right to know what he is eating. If he likes preserved food it is no business of the government to restrain him from gratifying his desires, but if he prefers his food untreated he should be protected against having the doctored food thrust upon him in disguise.

The famous "embalmed beef inquiry" after the Spanish war brought to the attention of the public what had not been generally known—that borax in its various forms was largely used in the preservation of meats. Experts who testified at the inquiry were divided in opinion as to whether or not the use of borax was injurious, and the question failed of settlement at that time. It would seem that Dr. Wiley's experiments had resolved the doubt. Dr. Wiley asserts that he has conducted his investigation as a seeker after truth, with no theories to substantiate or preconceived notions to support, and so far as known his researches were conducted under fair conditions.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

Date is Fixed and Plans Made for the State Gathering of the G. A. R. Veterans.

The dates of the annual encampment of the Grand Army of Ohio were fixed at Washington C. H., by the committee for June 6, 7, 8 and 9. Col. Coulton, department commander, and his staff, with other Grand Army men from different parts of the state, attended the committee meeting.

It was announced by Col. Moulton that the big parade on Thursday will be headed by a martial band composed of 150 veteran fifers and drummers. He also said that Governor Herrick and staff, Senator Foraker and Senator Dick will attend the encampment and the national G. A. R. commander and staff will be there on Thursday and Friday. A number of congressmen and other prominent men will be there to assist in the camp fires.

The department commander said that all effort will be put forth to make the coming encampment the greatest in the history of the Ohio Grand Army.

A BATH

Was Taken in the Pool by Buck Deer and Fifty Swimmers Were Badly Frightened.

Glenwood Springs, Colo., Feb. 24—While 50 people were disporting in the great swimming pool at the Hotel Colorado, a large deer suddenly dashed out of the forest on the mountain side and plunged into the pool, swimming around among the astonished bathers.

Once in the pool the deer found it impossible to get out and a lariat was secured with which Sheriff Zimmerman roped the animal.

Then it was lifted up all right over the stone capping surrounding the pool. At first it struck viciously at its captors, and some barely escaped its sharp hoofs.

Extreme fright and exhaustion, however, soon quieted it, and it appeared as docile as though raised a pet. When released the animal ran down the bank of the Grand river and plunged in, swimming with the stream some distance, and then going ashore and disapearing in the forest.

The animal was a two year old buck and had just got its horns. It is thought it was chased down from the mountains by dogs.

Afaid of Strong Medicines.

Many people suffer for years from rheumatic pains, and prefer to do so rather than take the strong medicines usuelly given for rheumatism, not knowing that quick relief from pain may behad simply by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm and without taking any medicine internally. Rev. Amos Parker of Magnolia, North Carolina, suffered for eight years with a lame hip, due to severe rheumatic pains. He has been permanently cured by the free application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For sale by all druggists.

For Gold in the Soil Near Marysville Resumed—Precious Metal in a Chicken's Craw.

Marysville, O., Feb. 24.—Work has just been resumed in the gold mine in Allen township, after being delayed several weeks on account of the cold weather. An 8-inch pipe will be sunk 25 feet in the bottom of the shaft to the rock, which will be about 85 feet from the surface, where the gold bearing sand will be analyzed by a Government assayist.

Harlow Spain of Columbus, is at the head of the enterprise. Edward Lucas owns the farm where the shaft is being sunk.

John Lansdown, who is employed at Dana C. Bennett's poultry packing establishment, is exhibiting a small particle of gold which he found in the craw of a chicken. The gold was shown to Jeweler Charles A. Hopkins, who pronounced it to be the genuine article. Lansdown located the person who brought this chicken to the poultry house. The chicken came from a farmer in Allen township.

Infernal Machine For Penrose.

Philadelphia, Feb. 24.—Addressed to United States Senator Penrose a small infernal machine was found done up in an innocent looking package in a private mail box in the hallway of a building at 1210 Market street. A. J. Williams, a photographer, to whom the mail box belongs and who discovered the package, turned it over to Captain of Detectives Donaghy, who opened the box without exploding its contents. The box contained gunpowder and a liquid in a bottle, supposed to be nitroglycerin. On portions of the wrapper of the box were pasted clippings containing the names of different corporations. On another wrapper was the inscription: "President Roosevelt, we are not in any trust; time limited, inauguration."

AMUSEMENTS

WHO WAS "QUINCY ADAMS SAWYER?"

The village gossips wondered who he was, what he was, what he came for, and how long he intended to stay. They were anxious to find out all this about a young lawyer from Boston named Quincy Adams Sawyer, who had come to live at a small Massachusetts village for a year or so. A very successful book, which has its famous title from this young man's name, was written around Mr. Sawyer's doing in the country and around the village gossips who "wondered" all these things about him, and now the book in play form is to be elaborately produced at the Auditorium, one night, Wednesday, March 1. A strong company of well-known players appear in the production. It is predicted that it will prove "the best New England play ever written." Seats now on sale

QUINCY ADAMS SAWYER AT AUDITORIUM, MARCH 1.

"ISLE OF SPICE."

B. C. Whitney's piquant musical mixture, the "Isle of Spice," which will be at the Auditorium soon, comes with an excellent reputation of city records. It served to entertain immense audiences of the pleasure seeing population of Chicago, Boston and New York, for a period of 150 nights at each city. The book and lyrics were furnished by Allen Lowe and George E. Stoddard, the music was written by Paul Schindler and Ben M. Jerome, and the ensembles, dances and groupings were originated and produced by Gus Sohlke.

There are said to be nine musical numbers, which are considered distinct "hits." Among them can be mentioned "The Goo Goo Man," "The Star of Fate," "You and I," "Mercenary Mary Ann," "Peggy Brady," "Uncle Sam's Marines," "The Broomstuck Witches" and the quartet "How Can You Tell Till You Try?" Mr. Whitney has expended $50,000 on scenery, costumes and electrical effects, sufficient to guarantee an elaborate production.

THE TWO ORPHANS.

Local play goers are assured of a rare dramatic treat on the occasion of the engagement of the celebrated all-star cast in "The Two Orphans," at the Auditorium soon. The version of the play to be presented is the original one made for A. M. Palmer thirty years ago. It is considered the best melo drama constructed during the past generation. Everything there should be in a drama seems to be in "The Two Orphans,"—innocence, virtue, adventure, villainy, peril, grief, lust and hypocrisy. In the revival one of the greatest casts that has ever been gathered together for any one production has been secured. James O'Neill who has been associated with "Monte Cristo," for so many years that he has almost lost his identity in the role, plays the Chevalier, a character which he played with striking success before "Monte Cristo" was ever heard of. J. E. Dodson will be seen as the cripple, Pierre, a role in which he has created a sensation throughout the country. Louis James, the Jasques Frochard of the cast is a strong local favorite. He was an original member of the Boston theatre stock company. Jameson Lee Finney will be seen as Picard. Mrs. LeMoyne appears as the Countess. Elita Proctor Otis, who made her reputation as Nancy Sykes in "Oliver Twist," is seen as La Frochard, and Clara Morris will be seen as Sister Genevieve. Taken all in all, the cast of this remarkable revival can only be regarded as one of the most notable ever seen on the American stage. It is interesting to compare it with that seen in the play originally at the Union Square theatre in New York thirty years ago. The Chevalier then was played by Charles Thorne; F. F. Mackay was Pierre; Mc-Kee Rankin, the Jacques; Steuart Robson, the original Picquard; Kate Claxton, the blind girl; Kittly Blanchard, the Henriette; Ida Vernon, the Sister Genevieve; Fanny Morant, the Countess; Marie Wilkins, the La Frochard, and Rose Etynke, the Marianne. That original cast was certainly a remarkable one, containing names valued today in stage history.

TOMORROW'S CONCERT.

DEMAND

For Human Bodies in Indiana Still Exceeds the Supply, so Heagy Declares.

Anderson, Ind., Feb. 24.—Because they have not recently received bodies from the Marion County Infirmary, medical colleges of Indianapolis are demanding of Superintendent Heagy to know what has become of the bodies of persons dying at the County Asylum for Dependents.

Superintendent Heagy has replied, telling the medical colleges that the bodies they want are not available, and that the demand for them exceeds the supply.

The spirited correspondence has resulted in Superintendent Heagy explaining how it came that the medical colleges at Indianapolis had so many bodies of negroes. Many of them were shipped from the poor farm institution of Madison county. Four years ago Alexandria had hundreds of negroes. Many worked in a factory that caused them to become victims of lung trouble, so it was said. Falling ill they were sent to the county infirmary and received no more attention from friends or relatives. Many bodies of negroes were unclaimed, and were therefore boxed up and shipped as freight to the Indianapolis colleges.

FULLER INSANE

Assistant Attorney in Department of Justice at Washington Detained by Chicago Police.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Leslie C. Fuller, assistant attorney in the department of justice at Washington, is detained at a police station in this city, and will be sent to the detention hospital for the insane until his friends are able to make arrangements for his care. Fuller came to Chicago a few days since, registering at the Auditorium Annex. An hour later he attempted to arrest a man named John Sherlock, claiming that he was a policeman and that Sherlock was violating the law. Sherlock took Fuller for a highwayman and the two men were having a desperate struggle when an officer appeared and took Fuller to the station. He was examined by City Physician Todd, who pronounced him insane.

ANTI PASS BILL

Passed by the House of Representatives in Indiana—Heavy Penalty is Provided in Bill.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 24.—The Indiana house of representatives passed the Davis anti-pass bill, which prohibits the issuance of railroad passes to any citizen of the state. The bill, as passed by the house, provides for heavy penalties for violations of the law. For the issuance of such a pass a fine of from $200 to $2,000 may be assessed. For the acceptance of a pass a fine of from $20 to $200 is provided.

Hoch Held Without Bail.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Johann Hoch was held to the grand jury without bail. The coroner's jury which investigated the death of Mrs. Marie Walcker-Hoch found that the deceased came to her death from the effects of arsenic poisoning, and it was the expressed belief of the jury that Hoch administered the poison.

Three Men Fatally Hurt.

Madisonville, Ky., Feb. 24.—A report just received here from Providence, Ky., says that as the result of a gas explosion in the Shamrock coal mines near that place three men have been fatally wounded.

Anti-Firecracker Bill.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 24.—The state assembly unanimously passed a bill prohibiting the sale of giant firecrackers and other dangerous explosives specified.

Appeal of Kentuckians.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 24.—A mass meeting of the citizens of the state capital, made up of state and city officials and leading men and presided over by Governor Beckham, memorialized congress to appropriate $750,000 for the completion of locks and dams on the Kentucky river. Such an appropriation will complete it to the heart of the coal fields.

Fruit Crop Nipped.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 24. — Reports received from Tyler, Tex., state that half the peach crop was killed by the recent blizzard. A special to the Commercial-Appeal from Rogersville, Ark., says that the fruit crop in northern Arkansas has also suffered heavily as a result of the prolonged cold weather.

Kratz Not Guilty.

GRANVILLE NEWS.

CONCERT FOR THE BENEFIT OF OF CENTENNIAL, MARCH 1.

Elihu Hayes Hurt When Horse Fell. A. P. Nichols Ill—Reception. Personal Paragraphs.

Granville, O., Feb. 24—The music committee of the Centennial Association will "sound the first note" in the interests of our celebration on the evening of March1, and it ought to ring forth loud and clear.

Mr. Julian Walker, basso, has been secured by the committee for this date and much against the wishes of many of the members, it has been decided to put down the price and double the attendance.

Mr. Walker, who is a singer of distinction, especially in the East, comes with highest testimonials. He has sung with Madame Schuman-Heink; he has sung in the Bach festivals at Bethlehem; he sings to crowded houses in the larger cities, where the admission is from fifty cents up to two dollars, and he will give a program here which will delight even a popular audience.

Twenty-five cents for reserved seat is certainly an unheard of thing for an entertainment of such superior artistic merit. But, the committee has willed it so, and the citizens ought not to wait to be solicited by those selling the tickets. Here is your chance. Perhaps you failed to purchase lecture course tickets last fall; if so you should make haste and remedy your mistake.

The concert will be given in the opera house at Granville, on Wednesday evening, March 1. Newark lovers of fine music should avail themselves of this opportunity to hear this excellent concert, and several special cars should be run for the occasion. Newark people can secure their seats by 'phoning to the Granville book store. Secure your seats quick.

Elihu Hayes, son of Mr. Thomas Hayes, who lives about four miles southeast of Granville, was the victim of a very serious accident on last Saturday. He was riding a horse, engaged in rounding up some cattle, when the horse, which was smooth shod, slipped and fell. In falling the animal fell on Mr. Hayes, breaking the large bone of his right leg just above the ankle, and also badly spraining the same ankle. His right leg was bruised from the hip down. Mr. Hayes will be confined to the house for some time to come.

Several weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. William Black took their little daughter, Ura, to a sanitarium at Marion, O., to be treated. Word has been received from the sanitarium that the little girl is getting along nicely, and that the fullest expectations of the attending physicians are being realized.

Jay Davis left the forepart of the week for Columbus, where he has accepted a position as inside guard in the Ohio Penitentiary.

Granville friends have received word that Mr. A. P. Nichols who went to California last fall for the benefit of his health, is now suffering with appendicitis in San Diego, and that he is in very bad shape physically.

The ladies of the Baptist church are making great preparations for the Japanese social to be held in the parlors of the church on next Tuesday evening. Many interesting features of life in Japan will be given, and Mrs. Topping will speak on Japan. No admission will be charged but there will be a free will offering for missions.

Henry L. Thomas, who has been visiting in Granville for several days, has gone to Beloit, Wis., where he has a fine position in the gas engine department of the Fairbanks-Morse company.

C. E. Crawford, president of the Crawford Natural Gas company, has gone to Palm Beach, Florida, where he will spend the remainder of the winter.

The Granville Natural Gas company will drill in the well on their farm north of Granville, in a few days.

The new meter and regulator station of the Crawford Natural Gas company, in the Union Station field, is completed. This connects the Columbus Natural Gas company line up with the Crawford company, which ought to give good service in case of shortage from the one well which has been running the town so far this winter.

Mrs. F. L. Beckel gave a delightful afternoon entertainment Wednesday in the nature of a Martha Washington reception. About twenty ladies were present, most of them in colonial dress and the hours between three and seven were pleasantly passed in work and conversation. An amusing contest in "original drawing" was a feature of the afternoon, the winner of which, Mrs. Case, received a handsome floral lamp shade. The dining room was effectively decorated in red carnations and the long table was an exquisite study in red and white. The place cards were decorative hatchets tied with the national colors and inscribed with appropriate toasts which were read by the ladies in turn. At seven the guests departed.

R. D. Sprout, '04, Denison, who is engaged in the fruit commission business, is visiting friends here for a short time.

Terrence Huffman of Dayton, one of the trustees of Denison university, was here Wednesday on business connected with the college.

All the arrangements are now completed for the Washington banquet to be served at Cleveland Hall this evening. The banquet will be served at 6:30 o'clock sharp.

A cup of coffee; a bit of sausage and a plate of Mrs. Austin's Buckwheat cakes is a breakfast fit for a king. tf

Chaos at Warsaw.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 24.—A dispatch from Warsaw says: The situation here is causing the greatest anxiety in all circles. Alarming reports are current concerning the intention and plans of the revolutionary party, and March 4 is awaited with much apprehension. The strike agitation is spreading in every direction, and bank clerks, journalists, office servants, printers, drivers, stationary engineers and mechanics in general are all threatening to strike. Notwithstanding all this, the situation in the city is remarkably quiet.

Resort to Violence.

Warsaw, Feb. 24.—The strikers are resorting to violence. They have destroyed the great switchboard station outside the city and cut a number of telegraph wires.

JUDGE BRASEE

WHOSE WIFE WAS DAUGHTER OF DR. DICKINSON OF NEWARK

Died Thursday at Lancaster—Judge Brasee One of Most Prominent Lawyers in Lancaster.

Lancaster, O., Feb. 4—Judge John Scofield Brasee died here yesterday. He had been an invalid for a number of years but the illness that caused his death dates back only ten days.

Judge Brasee was born in 1832 in this city. He was the son of John Trafford Brasee, a pioneer attorney of this section. He attended college at Kenyon and studied law with his father. In 1875 he was appointed by Governor Hayes as a member of the codifying committee. He was for many years counsel of the C. & M. V. railroad and was offered the position of general counsel of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg, declining because it necessitated his removal to the Smoky City.

He married Mary Anna Dickinson, daughter of Dr. J. H. Dickinson, of Newark, and on December 6 of last year they celebrated that 50th anniversary. He leaves six children: John T. Brasee, attache of the insurance commissioner's office at Columbus; Charles E. Brasee, an attorney of this city; Mrs. Charles Sawyer of Muskogee, I. T.; Mrs. Frank Sands of Connecticut; Mrs. Clara Towt and Miss Anna Brasee of this city.

BANK PRESIDENT

Henry E. Hutchinson, of the Brooklyn, N. Y. Bank, Recommends Mucu-Tone to Catarrhal Sufferers.

"A bank president's testimonial is not to be had every day," said Mr. Frank D. Hall, our local druggist, as he referred to the testimonial of Mr. Hutchinson. "You know that the more prominent a man is in business affairs the more reticent he becomes, that makes the letter of Mr. Hutchinson all the stronger."

"After suffering four weeks with an aggravating catarrhal cold which kept me awake nights and not receiving any benefit from my family physician or other remedies, I purchased a small bottle of Mucu-tone, within forty-eight hours I was greatly relieved and in less than a week entirely cured. I give this testimonial unsolicited wishing others to know of this valuable remedy."—Henry E. Hutchinson.

Mr. Hall says: "This testimonial of Mr. Hutchinson, who is president of the Brooklyn Bank, and chairman of the State Bankers Association, and has been a resident of Brooklyn since 1869, is but one of the many testimonials furnished for Rexall Mucu-Tone. "I couldn't afford to and would not publish these testimonials if they were not true. Sometimes I feel that testimonials we receive do not half express the real value of this remedy. My confidence in it is so great that if anyone is suffering from a hanging on cold, catarrh or run down system, or in any way need a tonic, I will be very glad to sell them a trial bottle for fifty cents and guarantee it to give satisfaction or refund the price."—Frank D. Hall, druggist.

OIL KING

And Two Associates From Lima, Ohio, Were Kept Prisoners in Their Hotel Rooms.

Lima, O., Feb. 21—"Come and get me out, or I'll jump through a window," was the plaintive telegram sent his attorney by W. L. Russell, the millionaire oil king.

Russell, together with Otto G. Tague editor of an oil and mining journal, and T. J. Edwards, clerk of the Allen county courts, visited Greensboro, Ind., and as soon as their names appeared on the hotel register from "Lima O.," there was a hurried meeting together of the health and village authorities, with the result that the party were quarantined in their hotel apartments.

Edwards stood it one night. Then until he crossed the Ohio line. Russell until he crossed the Ohio line. Russell and the journalist are still there, as the quarantine was drawn tighter when the escape of one was made known.

The trio were interested in a new deep sand oil well which they have ready to be "shot" in that district.

JUDGMENT

FOR PLAINTIFF IN LICKING GAS AND OIL CASE.

Answer and Cross Petition in Suit in Which Roy J. Moore is a Defendant.

Zanesville, O., Feb. 24—Because the defendant did not desire to plead further in the cases of the Old Citizens' National bank vs. the Licking Drilling, Gas, Oil and Mineral company, S. M. Winn, A. W. Evans and J. B. Owens, Judge Frazier yesterday gave judgment for $1,883.17 to the plaintiff in the first case and $9,698.08 to the plaintiff in the second case.

In both cases the defendant company by leave of the court withdrew its answer and cross petition and the plaintiff withdrew its reply to these. In both the court found the company the principal debtor and the other defendants the sureties. Attorney F. M. Ford was for the plaintiff and Winn represented the defendants.

Moore a Former Newark Man.

In the case of Mary E. Speer vs. Frank H. Moore et al, Harry P. Herdman, who was appointed receiver in the case of H. S. Spiegel vs. the Electrical Supply and Construction company, in which Roy J. Moore is a defendant, has filed an answer and cross petition as Roy J. Moore, formerly of Newark, one of the defendants in the former case. The receiver states that there is a judgment against Roy J. Moore for $450, and he asks that the four-seventy-fifths of the estate at stake in the Speer-Moore case which belongs to Roy J. Moore's share of the costs in the first case, have been paid, be applied to pay the judgment.

In the case of the Oil Well Supply company et al vs. the Licking Drilling, Gas, Oil and Mineral company et al, Attorneys F. M. Ford and J. T. Crew, for the plaintiff, have filed a motion asking that certain parts of the answer of the defendant company be stricken out on the grounds that these parts are irrelevant, redundant, and one part does not tend to make a material issue or an issue as to a materil part.

NEWARK MOTHERS

DO NOT LET YOUR CHILDREN GROW UP THIN AND PALE.

When We Guarantee Vinol Will Make Them Strong, Robust and Healthy.

"I wish every mother in Newark could know what Vinol will do for their little ones who are weak, thin-legged, hollow-chested and bloodless," said Druggist Frank D. Hall. "It seems almost wicked for parents to let their children grow up weak, puny, ailing and nervous, and if fathers and mothers would only give such children Vinol you would see a great difference in the younger generation in this vicinity.

"Vinol is just the tonic growing children need, as it builds them up and creates flesh and strength so rapidly. It contains in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal, body-building elements of cod liver oil, without a drop of oil or grease, and no sickening drugs. Children love it because it is so delicious to the taste, and you know what you are giving your little ones."

Continued Mr. Hall: "I am continually hearing of so much good it is doing, not only children, but the weak, aged, run-down, tired and debilitated, that I cannot help being enthusiastic in regard to Vinol.

"I wish every mother in Newark would try Vinol, on our guarantee that if it does not do their little ones all the good we claim we will refund all the money paid us for the medicine. It seems as though it was the duty of every mother in Newark to accept this offer." Frank D. Hall, druggist.

Headquarters for Talking Machines.

Strong demand for Disk Talking Machine Records has caused me to put in at once a large stock of them.

I have just received a large part of more than $1,000 worth of Victor Disk records, embracing all the popular old and all the new selections, also the March numbers.

I have the entire assortment of Edison's Gold Moulded Records and with Edison Phonographs and Disk Talking Machines on hand at my large store, 47 West Main street, I am much better prepared to accommodate my friends and customers than ever before.

Fast Mail in Collision.

Milford, Conn., Feb. 24.—The fast mail train from New Haven and New York running at a rate of 50 miles an hour, this morning dashed into the rear end of a freight train which was taking a siding here. The caboose and one freight car were telescoped and another freight car slightly damaged. The mail train did not leave the track. Engineer Harmon and Fireman Munsey jumped and each received cuts and bruises.

"Of course; they're his stepchildren.—Philadelphia Press.

PROMISES

To Produce Document to Prove They Were Part Owners of the Iroquois Theatre.

Chicago, Feb. 24—Evidence startling in its directness, which showed Klaw and Erlanger to be part owners of the Iroquois theatre, where nearly 600 lives were swept away, and consequently liable to a share of the responsibility for the terrible catastrophe, has been given before the grand jury.

The man who showed that these men were part owners of the playhouse, and should be included in the next indictment, was Harry M. Shabad, chairman of the Law Enforcement committee of the Iroquois Memorial Association. He stated to the grand jury that he had seen a contract made out between the owners of the theatre and the construction company that built it, which guaranteed $200,000 to the constructors.

This was signed, he declared, by Marc Klaw, Abraham Erlanger, Nixon Zimmerman, Harry J. Powers and Will J. Davis.

This startling evidence is said to have caused a tremendous furor in the grand jury room.

Immediately after he had laid his testimony before the inquisitors he left hurriedly for New York where he said he could get documentary evidence to support every word he had spoken.

"I will bring this contract back to Chicago with me and let the jurors see it," declared Mr. Shabad.

The indictments will be drawn for the death of Viva Jackson, an 18 year old girl, over whose body the inquest was held for the 600 deaths.

It will pay you to keep Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in your home. It only costs a quarter. Sold by all druggists.

REVENGE

Of the Jilted Woman Caused the Defeat of a Measure in the Nebraska House.

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 24—A woman's revenge for having once been jilted played a part in the defeat of a legislative measure in the Nebraska House of Representatives.

The bill in question, which was introduced by Representative Foster of Omaha, provided that dealers must sell gasoline in cans painted a crimson red, while housewives and other consumers were to continue the use of the same receptacle. The object of the measure was to prevent gasoline explosions, the color of the can serving as a warning as to the contents.

The bill passed the House by an overwhelming majority, but it encountered a strongly organized opposition in the Senate. On a vote it was overwhelmingly defeated. Representative Foster, being mystified, began an investigation. He learned from a Senator that a lobby, under the leadership of Miss Olive Utt, had been organized to accomplish its defeat. Miss Utt is the clerk to Lieut. Governor McGilton, and each member of the Senate, so Representative Foster says, had been approached by Miss Utt and asked as a personal favor to vote against the bill. The Sentors, deeming the measure unimportant, had given their pledge to opose it.

Representative Foster himself explains the young lady's opposition by saying that he was once engaged to Miss Utt, but that he recently married another woman.

HANOVER.

Word reached here announcing the sudden death of Mrs. Thomas Walcut at her home one mile east of here, Wednesday evening.

One of the saddest funerals ever in Hanover was that of Mrs. John Webb which took place in the Methodist church on Wednesday. She leaves a husband, four small children, an aged father, four brothers, two sisters and many friends and relatives to mourn her death. Rev. Mr. Lock of Newark conducted the services. Interment in the Hanover cemetery.

Miss Maude Ritchey spent Monday in Newark.

TOBACCO TRUST

May be Subjected to Rigid Investigation

WHOLE LEAF TOBACCO TRADE

Is controlled by One Corporation Says the Kentuckian's Resolution at Washington.

Washington, Feb. 24.—As telegraphed the Advocate yesterday afternoon Representative Kehoe of Kentucky introduced a resolution in the House yesterday afternoon providing for an investigation of the tobacco trust. The resolution is sweeping in its character. Kehoe's resolution directs that the Secretary of Commerce and Labor be requested "to investigate the cause of the low prices of leaf tobacco in the United States, and especially in Kentucky, Ohio and Tennessee, and ascertain what has caused its falling off and at the same time the increase in the prices of manufactured tobacco."

The resolution further provides that the Secretary of Commerce and Labor shall ascertain whether "these conditions have resulted from any contract in the form of a combine or conspiracy in restraint of trade; also, whether any corporation in purchasing leaf tobacco, is practicing discrimination, the boycott or the blacklist; also, whether any corporation has interfered in preventing any growers of leaf tobacco or growers' association from engaging in handling, buying or selling leaf tobacco; also, to investigate the organization, capitalization, profits and management of the business of such corporation, and to make an early report to the end that the information may be used by Congress as a basis of legislation or by the Department of Justice as a basis for legal proceedings."

Speaking of his resolution Mr. Kehoe says: "The oil situation in Kansas is no more acute or important than the tobacco situation in Kentucky, Ohio, and Tennessee. More people depend upon tobacco growing and the tobacco trade than are interested in any other industry in our section of the country. The purpose of my resolution is the same with reference to the operations of the American Tobacco company as the resolution recently passed by the House concerning the operations of the Standard Oil company. The opportunity of thousands of our citizens to make a living has been interferred with by this gigantic and unlawful concern.

"Our growers and people recently organized themselves for the purpose of protecting their industry against this combination, and succeeded in perfecting plans which would release them from its control. Only about $10,000,000 of money was required to finance the project, but after they had made arrangements to get it the combine, it is believed in my section, proceeded to upset their plans. It is well known that the tobacco combination has strong connections in New York, where the money was promised. Fully $20,000,000 security was offered for the loan, and the combine could not have controlled the market had it not succeeded in preventing the success of the negotiations.

"Kentucky, Ohio and Tennessee tobacco sold from 10c to 20c a pound prior to the days of the American Tobacco company, but has not been bringing any more than from five to ten cents per pound since that organization began its operations Moreover, it has put out of employment thousands of our citizens who were formerly engaged in buying, selling and handling tobacco. Now there is virtually but one buyer while formerly there were hundreds.

"Our people have fought hard against this combination, for they have felt most seriously its interference with their right to make an honest living, and while it seems to have succeeded in destroying the recent effort of the Growers' Association, still our people have not entirely lost hope, and are now trying to get the necessary money in Boston But as the connections of this powerful concern extend throughout the country I doubt if it will not be able to frustrate the growers' plans in that city also.

"I am confident a close and careful examination by the Government will disclose the fact that there is an unlawful tobacco combine in operation in this country, and that it is responsible for the decline in the price of leaf tobacco and the increase in the prices of manufactured products. I am sure also that it makes a business of interfering with and preventing others from engaging in the same field. If the House passes my resolution the country will learn about one of the most powerful and injurious combinations in the world."

Representative Campbell, the author of the Standard Oil investigation resolution, has received hundreds of letters pertaining to the oil combine. In his mail is one from Ohio, which charges the Standard Oil with clear evasions of the anti-combine and interstate commerce laws, and cites examples of the manner in which this is done. Illustrations are also given tending to show how the Standard maintains a monopoly in restraint of trade.

Judge of Canal Zone.

Washington, Feb. 24—The Panama canal commission today appointed Consul General Gudger of Panama to be judge of the canal zone.

Further Arrests Likely.

Washington, Feb 24.—As the result of conferences held at the White House with President Roosevelt, further developments in the land fraud cases in Oregon and California may be expected at no distant day. Since the first steps were taken looking to the prosecution of the alleged offenders the president has shown a keen interest in the investigations which have been made and in the indictments which followed With the view of acquainting himself with the situation as it exists up to the present time, the president was in close conference with Secretary Hitchcock, Attorney General Moody and Special Attorney Francis J. Heney. It is understood a plan of action was mapped out, and the statement was made that it need occasion no surprise if further arrests are ordered.

Miles Gets Full Pay.

Washington, Feb 24.—The conferees on the army appropriation bill perfected an agreement which covers all points of difference. The amendment regarded as most important is that affecting the pay of retired officers and involving the pay of General Miles, which at present is the full pay of a lieutenant general. The effect of the agreement is to give him his full retired pay, without reference to any compensation he may receive for service on the staff of the governor of Masachusetts.

Money Carries Disease Germs.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Paper money will carry disease germs for one month; metal money will carry such germs only 24 hours, according to the conclusion of Dr. Thomas Darlington, president of the New York city board of health, who has been experimenting with bacteria and money, and who presented the result to the house committee on banking and currency. The germs of only two diseases have been experimented with—consumption and diphtheria—and both of these may be communicated from one person to another on money

Today in the House.

Washington, Feb. 24—The House met today at 11 o'clock and after Chairman Hull of the military affairs committee had submitted the conference report on the military appropriation bill, private pension bills were considered.

In the Senate.

Washington, Feb. 24—The Senate committee on Interstate Commerce has adopted a resolution which will be submitted to the Senate, providing for investigation by it during the summer recess of railroad rates and all kindred questions It is provided that the committee shall begin its investigation as soon as possible after the adjournment of the present session and that it shall make report with its recommendations within ten days after the assembling of the next session of Congress.

TOLSTOI. GORKY.

TWO GREAT RUSSIAN LEADERS

Leo Tolstoi and Maxim Gorky, the two great leaders of the Russian people, are intimate friends although Tolstoi is a member of the nobility and has always been wealthy, while Gorky, until a few years ago, was a tramp. His underground activity was discovered, and since then the people have looked up to him. One of the most glaring outrages of the Russian government was the arrest of Gorky and the veiled threat that he would be executed for alleged responsibility for the recent troubles in St Petersburg

DR. EDWARD VAIL

NEWARK'S OLDEST PHYSICIAN, HAS PASSED AWAY.

For Sixty-Six Years He Practiced Medicine and Lived in Newark Over a Half Century.

Dr. Edward Vail, one of the oldest and best known physicians of Licking county, died at the home of Mr. C. L'H Long, 423 Columbia street, this city, on Thursday afternoon at 4:23 o'clock after an illnes of some time with uraemic poisoning.

The funeral which will be private, will be held at the home of Mr Long on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the services will be conducted by the Rev. L. S. Boyce, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and the interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Dr. Vail was born in Middleton, Vt, August 12, 1818, and at the time of his death was in the 87th year of his age On January 28, 1841, he was married to Miss Marion Aurelia Hyde at Wallingford, Vt. From this union was born one son, Edward, who died a number of years ago

The deceased was a graduate of Woodstock, Vt., Medical College, and began the practice of medicine in his native town at the age of 20 years, remaining there for three years, when he went to Brandon, Vt., where he was successful to a great degree and succeeded in building up a large practice He remained at Brandon for about ten years, when he came to Ohio in 1853, locating in Newark, and has been here ever since. From the time of his coming to Newark he was very successful in his practice, and was one of the most popular and widely known physicians in Central Ohio, and at the time of his death was the oldest physician in Newark. A few years ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis, which was afterwards followed by another stroke, since which time he had given up active practice of medicine and had lived in comparative retirement He was a member of Newark Lodge, No. 97, F. & A. M. He is survived by his aged wife, who is a helpless invalid.

MRS. ANN M'GOUGH

Formerly Miss Hiler of Newark Died Thursday Night at Protestant Hospital, Columbus.

The sad news was received here on Thursday evening of the death of Mrs Anna McGough (nee Hiler) which occurred at the Protestant Hospital in Columbus Thursday evening. Mrs. McGough was taken to Columbus about four weeks ago to undergo an operation. The shock however, was too much, and she succumbed. The deceased was aged 26 years.

Mrs. McGough was a good Christian woman, loved and respected by all who knew her. The deceased was married to Charles McGough in April, 1902. Besides the husband she is survived by her mother, Mrs. E. Hiler, two brothers, Frank and Leo Hiler, and three sisters, Mrs. Fred Speer, Mrs. Wm. Clugston and Miss Ada Hiler.

The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home. Rev. L. S. Boyce will preach the funeral.

MRS. WRIGHT'S FUNERAL

Will Take Place Saturday Afternoon at Trinity Church, Dr. Price Officiating.

The remains of Mrs. Martha Wright who died at Los Angeles, Calif., will arrive in Newark from Chicago tomorrow morning.

The funeral will take place from Trinity Episcopal church at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Dr. Pierce, president of Kenyon college, Gambier, will officiate. There will be no services at the home.

Trouble is Feared.

St Petersburg, Feb. 24.—There has been a recurrence of the strike movement at St. Petersburg. This morning a majority of the workmen at the Putiloff Iron Works, the point at which the original strike broke out, decided to quit. The minority of the workmen refused to stop work and serious disturbances followed. A strong force of police attacked the strikers, forcing them to leave the vicinity. The authorities fear trouble and troops are now patrolling the neighborhood of Putiloff and other factories where the strike is again in effect.

A club is being formed in London with the single purpose of playing the game of bridge.

SIMPLON TUNNEL

Longest in World Finished This Morning

BEGUN OVER FIVE YEARS AGO

When Parties Met This Morning There Was Scarcely a Foot's Deviation ---Engineering Feat.

Geneva, Switzerland, Feb. 24.—The boring of the Simplon tunnel, 13 miles long, the longest tunnel in the world, was completed at 7:20 this morning. Work was begun over five years ago. The accomplishment of the great engineering feat was celebrated in fitting manner by the ringing of bells and the firing of guns throughout the country.

Straight through the heart of the Alps the passageway has been bored. Work was begun at both ends of the tunnel simultaneously and a remarkable part of the feat is that when the two working parties met this morning there was barely a foot's deviation.

The work has been a most difficult one, owing to the fact that the bore passed through some of the highest mountains of the Alps. Owing to this fact the heat in the bore some times became unbearable, the thermometer in the spots where the diggers were at work some times registering over 200 degrees.

This necessitated the arranging of some contrivance for getting fresh cooling air to the workmen, and as a result the engineers in charge hit on a scheme by which the outside air was fanned in through the long bore and the temperature in the tunnel was reduced until in few places was it higher than 90 or 95 degrees.

The men have been entirely free from the illness which ordinarily overtakes those working so far under ground.

The tunnel which begins at Brigue, Switzerland, and ends at Isela, Italy, has brought to the fore in its construction some of the finest engineering plans extant.

When the extreme heat was encountered, in addition to the fanning scheme, another equally ingenious scheme was hit upon. This was to carry water, ice cold, from the Rhone Glacier, not far distant and spray the walls of the bore. At first iron pipes were used, but was found that these became hot and took away considerable of benefit that it was hoped would be derived The iron pipes, ten miles of pipe in all, were then taken out and wooden pipes, non-conductors of heat were put in and the problem was solved.

The tunnel derives its name from the famous Simplon Pass constructed by Napoleon in 1801-02. This pass, which is 40 miles long, is composed of magnificent grades, small tunnels and sturdy bridges, and is today used as a stage road for passing over the mountains. The pass has a gradual up-grade, and at its highest point is a full mile higher than at its lowest.

IF RATES

Were Forced Too Low Roads Would Refuse Freight, Declared President Fish.

Washington, Feb. '24—Stuyvesant Fish, president of the Illinois Central railroad, read a statement before the Senate committee on interstate commerce, which has the railroad rate bill under consideration.

He gave an exhaustive review of the changes that railroad securities have undergone in various parts of the country, calling attention particularly to the fact that a great majority of stock is held in the United States, whereas a number of years ago it was held abroad.

Discussing the Esch-Townsend bill, Mr. Fish said that to fix equitable rates that would not discriminate in favor of one port as against another the commission would have to take into consideration the railroad rates in Canada and Mexico and the water rates from ports of the United States to ports abroad.

"This cannot be done by the Interstate Commerce Commission or any other body of men," Mr. Fish asserted. "Congress cannot delegate to the commission authority to fix the water rates on the ocean except within the three-mile limit."

The chairman asked if it were not possible for the commission, if given power to fix water rates, to refuse to allow foreign ships to clear if their cargoes contained exports that had been billed at an improper rate.

Mr. Fish replied that the injustice of holding an entire cargo because a part of it had been taken at an improper rate could, readily be seen. He said that it would offend every nation and that foreign ships would not come into our ports. He commented at length on the fact that the foreign commerce was conducted in foreign ships and that this country was dependent upon them.

Senator Dolliver called attention to an increase in the lumber rate from Louisiana and Mississippi. Mr. Fish said that matter was now before the Interstate Commerce Commission, and was fully explained and justified in a hearing before that body

But he did not know what the difference would be. He said if it was declared that a railroad company should reduce the rate, the company would consider whether it could afford to take the business at a lower rate, and if it could not the business would be refused.

Just before Mr. Fish concluded his statement he told of a conference he had in January, 1902, with President Roosevelt over the subject of railroad legislation.

The President suggested that a commission of five men should be chosen to represent the railroads, and named Morton of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe; Hughitt of the Chicago and Northwestern; Cassatt of the Pennsylvania; Spencer of the Southern, and Fish of the Illinois Central as a good committee for the railroads to name Mr. Fish said nothing had been done in response to the President's suggestion.

RAILWAY RUMBLES

PAY OF FIREMEN INCREASED ON LAKE SHORE ROAD.

Mr. Morrissey Expects No Strike—The Grain Rate Reduced—Local and General News.

Elkhart, Ind., Feb 24—The Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad company announces an increase in firemen's wages of from 5 to 20 cents per hundred mile run. The pay for passenger runs is $2 10 and for the hardest freight runs $2.50.

Doesn't Expect Strike.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 24—Grand Master P. H Morrissey of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, referring to the reports to the effect that a strike is threatened on the Lackawanna by his organization as a result of the discharge as a member of the grievance comittee for that line says:

"There is absolutely no truth in the report, and no strike, or serious difference is contemplated."

Reduce Grain Rate.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 24—The Louisville and Nashville and the Southern railway has announced a reduction of from 1-3 to 3 cents in grain rates to Carolina points. This is to meet the recent cut of the 'Frisco line from Memphis.

Pennsylvania Mileage.

Official figures on the mileage of the lines of the Pennsylvania railroad company, compiled by the Pittsburg Post, show that it now reaches a grand aggregate of 10,558 miles, the greatest length of tracks that the company has ever had. Nearly all of this mileage is double tracked, many miles have three tracks, and the amount of four tracked lines is quite large, so that the total trackage of the lines of the Pennsylvania railroad company comes up to 21,183 miles.

Pennsylvania has the largest share of this immense mileage, having 3,900 miles; Ohio comes second with 1,827 miles; Indiana third with 1,438 miles; New York fourth with 813 miles; Virginia has only 12 miles. The lines east of Pittsburg include 5,856 miles, those west of Pittsburg 4,731 miles, and in addition to all this the company operates 71 miles of canals and ferries.

These figures show that the Pennsylvania has one of the longest railroad systems in the country. The recent merger of the "Big Four" and the Michigan Central with the New York Central, gives to that company a greater mileage than the Pennsylvania but if the Baltimore & Ohio, the Chesapeake & Ohio, and the Norfolk & Western, which are controlled by the Pennsylvania, were incorporated into its mileage, as the two western roads were into the New York Central, the Pennsylvania would have the greatest mileage and trackage in the United States.

Pensy Uniforms.

An order has been sent out from the general offices of the Pennsylvania railroad providing that all freight engineers and firemen in charge of shifting engines in the yards shall wear uniforms after the same pattern as those adopted by passenger crews some 10 months ago. The suits are of dark blue cloth and have gray stripes down the legs and around the edges of the coat. The caps are of black leather and bear a shield designating the rank of the men.

May be Transferred from Springfield to Some Other Ohio Town—Meeting to be Held March 9.

South Bend, Ind, Feb. 24.—It was announced that Isadore Mautner, owner of the Fort Wayne and the Grand Rapids Central Baseball league franchises, had agreed with John Ganzel on terms for the sale of the Grand Rapids team to Ganzel. Mautner went to Grand Rapids to complete the deal. Phil W. Arnold of Louisville will be associated with Ganzel, it is said. The Central league team at Springfield, O., may be transferred to Lima or Canton because of a threat to prevent Sunday baseball at Springfield Directors of the Central league will meet at Springfield, O., on March 9, to discuss the situation and to adopt a schedule.

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable store-house of pleasing rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

A BAD DISORDER

In the fall of 1895 I contracted that fearful disease, Blood Poison. It gained such headway that I was forced to resign my position and seek relief at Hot Springs. After spending all the means I had I went to Memphis. In less than three weeks I was in a hospital, and after nine weeks of suffering I was discharged as cured. In less than a month every bone in my body seemed to be affected and felt as if they would break at the least exertion. Again I was compelled to resign, and I returned to the hospital for a seven weeks stay. When I came out I was advised to try farming. When I first went on the farm I prevailed on the only firm who handled drugs to get me one dozen bottles of S. S. S. At that time both of my hands were broken out with blisters and I was covered with boils and sores. In the meantime my druggist had gotten two dozen bottles of S. S. S. for me and I began its use, and after taking the thirteenth bottle not a sore or boil was visible. R. B. POWELL, East 9th St., Little Rock, Ark.

Of all human diseases, Contagious Blood Poison is the most hideous and hateful. The victim is tortured with eating ulcers, sores and abscesses, unsightly blotches, eruptions and other symptoms of the miserable disease. S S S. has been used successfully for nearly fifty years for Contagious Blood Poison. It contains no mercury, potash or other mineral. Our home treatment book gives all the symptoms of this disease. Medical advice free.

COURAGE THAT WON

.....By Frank H. Sweet

Copyright, 1904, by Frank H. Sweet

Judge Pauls went down the office steps briskly, his face, which a few moments before had been creased into a frown, now beaming with the satisfaction of duty well done. He had forbidden the new doctor, who had no prospects and no faculty for money making, to visit his house any more. From what he knew of Edith and what he had seen in the young doctor's eyes he felt that he need apprehend no further trouble, and the affair had not gone far enough for either of the young people to suffer any heartache.

Dr. Phil was standing in front of an open window in his office, his hands thrust deep into his pockets, gazing out at the judge as he crossed the street and passed on through the field opposite toward the river, probably to see if the swollen torrent was doing any damage to his lands. Then, with the same strong, self contained look which the judge had seen and, against his will, admired, the young doctor turned back into his office.

There was no despondency in his clear gray eyes, no weakening of his square chin. He had fought his way from almost absolute ignorance at twelve in the depths of a coal mine through various situations to one school after another, through college and medical school and hospital practice, until now he was here in an office of his own waiting for the first patient.

There was a large back region of farm and mountain people here, and once he could gain their confidence it would offer him such a field as he loved, a life of hard, continuous work, with much of it in long journeyings under the open sky. The horror of his early boyhood in the black depths of the mine could never leave him; to be in the open air was to be in God's own world. The matter of recompense in money never troubled him.

As he turned from the window a man came hurrying across a field from the direction of the river. Reaching the opposite fence, he vaulted over without seeking the gate and ran straight to Dr. Phil's office.

THE ANIMAL SEEMED TO THINK IT FOOLHARDY TO PROCEED.

"Hello, doctor!" he called sharply. "You got a telephone?"

"Yes."

"Well, you call down to Dr. Peters at the Ferry road an' tell him to hurry to Dan Sims' house, on t'other side the river—tell him Lonesome valley. Dan jest hollered across to me an' said his wife'd cut herself with an ax, bad, an' they was holdin' back the bleedin' well's they could. The bridge is down to the Ferry road."

"But it's nearly twenty miles to the Ferry bridge. It will take Dr. Peters hours to reach her."

"Can't help that. No man could get across the river this side the bridge, an' Dr. Peters is the nearest. You'd have to go forty miles."

Dr. Phil was hurriedly gathering up some things from his table.

"There's the branch that runs into the river from the mountains," he called over his shoulder. "After this freshet it must be a torrent, as dangerous as the river itself. Dr. Peters could never cross it. He is too old."

The man's countenance fell. "That's so," he admitted. "I'd forgot all about the branch. I s'pose it's jest tearin' now. Well, I'll holler back to Dan an' tell him a doctor'll be over jest as soon's the water goes down a little an' that they must do the best they can."

"You'll do nothing of the sort. Hurry round to the stable behind the office and bring my horse. You'll find the bridle hanging on a peg. Never mind a saddle; that will be too much weight."

"But why"—

"Hurry, I tell you!" thundered Dr. Phil. "The woman may be bleeding to death. I'll be ready by the time you are back."

When the man appeared Dr. Phil was at the corner of the office, and he threw himself instantly upon the horse's back.

"You can't go"— the man tried to say, but Dr. Phil did not hear him. He was tearing across the street, and when they came to the fence the horse took it at a bound. A few minutes later they were at the river.

Several men were working in the edge of the water, trying to rescue lumber and other floating wreckage from the torrent. Judge Pauls was standing on the bank watching them. As the horse dashed down the bank the men threw up their hands warningly.

"You can't cross here!" one of them yelled. "It's sure death!"

"A woman's on the other side dying," was Dr. Phil's only answer.

He did not even attempt to check the horse, but plunged into the water at full speed.

This horse was the only piece of property that Dr. Phil owned, and he had been able to make the purchase because the ugliness and viciousness and small size of the animal had made the price very low. But the horse was apparently afraid of nothing in the world and had strong staying powers, and these were qualities which soon convinced the young doctor that he had obtained the very animal he needed without regard to price.

However, with that rushing, roaring torrent before him, the animal seemed to think it foolhardy to proceed, for before he had gone a dozen feet from shore he tried to turn and swim back. But now the firm, masterful hand of the rider was controlling his head, the calm, inflexible voice was sounding encouragingly in his ears, and after a few ineffectual attempts to turn the horse directed his gaze toward the opposite shore and did what Dr. Phil was doing—his best.

But no living thing could stem or cross that mad rush of water, and this Dr. Phil well knew. He must reach the other side, but he was not foolhardy.

The torrent was winding in its course. Dr. Phil's gaze had swept keenly from bank to bank; then he forced his horse into a current which approached the opposite shore nearly a half mile down. To the horrified spectators it looked as though they were being swept away, powerless to help themselves, as, indeed, they were for the time being. All Dr. Phil did was to guide the horse, and all the horse could do was to keep them above water. But as the current approached its nearest point to the other shore, not more than ten feet distant, Dr. Phil suddenly slipped into the water, with his hand twisted in the horse's mane, and in that position, freed from his weight and with the strong right arm assisting by quick, powerful strokes, the horse threw himself forward with a desperate effort which brought his feet upon the bottom. A few minutes later they emerged from the water and staggered up the bank.

Dr. Phil did not hesitate. Lonesome valley was two miles away, and he could reach it more quickly on foot than he could on the horse in its present exhausted condition. So he turned the animal loose; perhaps he could recover him again when he returned.

He found the woman weak from loss of blood and lack of proper attention. Another hour's delay might have been fatal. He remained with her two days, until she was out of danger, and then returned to the river. Contrary to his expectation, he found the horse grazing quietly within a few rods of where he had left him, and the animal greeted him with an unmistakable whinny of pleasure and relief. Perhaps the common danger in the river and the manner of escape had won the horse's respect and dependence; possibly the animal was already becoming fond of him. Dr. Phil had not received a fee for his services, but the family's gratitude and the way the horse trotted toward him, whinnying, were enough, and he recrossed the river with buoyant heart.

In his desk he found a letter which read:

My Dear Doctor—I was a little hasty the other day, and I realized it when I saw you crossing the river. Will you overlook it by taking dinner with us Sunday? HENRY PAULS.

Slaves of the Orient.

"In Zanzibar and Pemba slaves are very slow to take advantage of the regulations that give them the right to claim their freedom," says a traveler. "They realize that so long as they are well used their position is superior to that of the man whose freedom is his sole asset. I have found the same attitude in north Africa. From Morocco to Tripoli one sees most of the slaves well content and flourishing. The famine, the locusts, the drought and the tax collector have no terror for them. Work keeps them healthy, they have enough to eat and drink, and the future has no meaning at all. There is promodion, there are confidential missions to governors and friends that elevate a slave, if only in the eyes of his fellows, and there is always a chance of manumission when the owner dies and wishes to have some good deeds recorded in the books of Islam's recording angels. The sorry truth of the matter is that slaves under Mohammedan rule are much better off than they ever were under the rule of white men in America and elsewhere."

The Permanent Novel.

"The novel that has inherent and permanent value that will secure for it a place in literature," said a well known author a few days ago, "rarely exceeds an edition of ten or fifteen thousand copies, and more often the limit is 5,000, while the one that is ephemeral, but catches the public fancy, may have a sale of fifty or a hundred thousand. Books of the latter class put money into the pockets of both author and publisher, but it does not come from the most discriminating readers. Of the class in question the field is limited, and, while they establish the reputation and permanent value of the really literary production, they are not included in the clientele of the author who is willing to sacrifice quality and style to increase his revenues from royalties. The novel that attains a wide but brief popularity does not appeal to the literary class."

LINGERIE SUGGESTIONS.

Dainty Underwear For Summer. New Neck Trimmings.

Nightgowns in lingerie sets are to have the sleeves set in with the tiniest of baby beading.

Some of the new nightgowns are embroidered like the linen shirt waists of last summer, with great flower designs that twist up each side, and are heavily embroidered.

Matelasse silk dressing sacks are stunning and may be bought just now at greatly reduced prices. They are more within the limit of the average woman's pocketbook than the lounging robes of the same material.

Petticoats of changeable taffeta running through many colors are to the fore again.

Very charming are the new silk mulls in solid colors.

Taffeta with a soft finish and in pin stripes holds first place among spring silks.

Filmy fichus, little ripples and swirls of lace and elbow sleeves and lace ruffles will make the summer frock a thing of loveliness.

Quite as pretty as the chiffon ruches are the neck trimmings of double and triple rows of dainty lace. They have the advantage of washing well.

Pink and blue chip hats are trimmed with blue velvet ribbon bows that match in color, but deepen in shade. Pink camellias are placed on the blue hats, while a hat of pink will boast impossible blue camellias.

An exceedingly smart and becoming toque is herewith illustrated. It is made of the palest blue tulle overlaid with a glistening embroidery in which pale blue pearls play an important part. Inside the daintily curved brim folds of tulle are arranged, and a lovely feather droops over the side.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

WHAT WILL BE WORN.

Fashions In Outing Skirts — Smart Lingerie Waists.

The circular short skirt for walking and outing generally is one of the summer models. It is made with a seam up the front, which insures a perfect fit about the hips and a pretty swing at the feet that no amount of darts and seams can accomplish.

Soft surah in a checked design, the colorings in black and white, blue or green and white, makes an ideal warm weather traveling gown. A dress of this kind worn with a white "dicky" and cuffs to match always makes the costume look fresh and neat, as these adjuncts may be frequently renewed.

NEW BODICE MODEL.

Chic examples of lingerie, lawn and batiste shirt waists are a mass of tiny tucks. They are daintily embroidered by hand in small sprays of hand worked embroidery. Insertions of lace and swiss are to be seen on the best machine made models, but the hand work is much more exclusive and elegant.

Shirt waist sleeves are fuller at the top and are not trimmed there with tucks or lace, as they were last summer.

The smart waist pictured may be carried out in any of the heavy silks of the season. It is laid from shoulders to waist in wide outward turning plaits. These plaits are embroidered with designs in fancy braid, the upper pattern simulating a yoke. About the yoke of Irish lace is an empiecement of velvet embroidered in daisy petals. Tiny pieces of petal embroidered velvet trim the vest from the empiecement down to the chiffon velvet girdle. The sleeves are box plaited into the armholes and have a braid trimmed cuff.

HAY AS A CARTOON COLLECTOR.

Secretary of State Eager For Sketches In Which He Is Depicted. Colonel Pete Hepburn's Allusion to Old Age In a Debate—Bright Reply of Representative Mudd's Son.

Secretary of State Hay employs a small army of retainers to gather from the domestic and foreign press all cartoons and caricatures in which he is depicted, says the Chicago Inter Ocean's Washington correspondent. One large room in his home is papered from ceiling to floor with cartoons, for the most part the original pen and ink drawings, wherein Mr. Hay is depicted.

But one room is not sufficient to accommodate all, and now the secretary is putting the sketches in a portfolio of huge size. He intends to have the cartoons bound in appropriate style when he retires to private life, and some of them will be presented to his intimate friends.

Mr. Hay's fad is known to many of the cartoonists of the country, and a majority send him the originals of their work as soon as the reproductions are published. A price is seldom charged, but Mr. Hay does not forget a favor, and many of the gifts he sends out each Christmas go to cartoonists.

Mr. Hay is the proud possessor of the finest collection of Du Maurier cartoons in the world.

A master of invective who has not been surpassed in the house of representatives for many, many years, Colonel Pete Hepburn of Iowa, does not lose his grasp of descriptive English, says the Washington Post. Three score and eleven himself, his allusion to old age in a recent debate is too good to be buried out of sight in the Congressional Record. Mr. Lamar of Florida, a much younger man, who nevertheless has gray hair and, as Colonel Hepburn remarked during the debate, an excess of manner, had, as alleged, misquoted President Roosevelt's speech. For this the incisive Iowan belabored him mercilessly.

"That kind of garbling of authority or misquoting the president," asserted Colonel Pete aggressively, "is tolerable and excusable in the boys of the profession when they are getting their stage legs, when they are before that great tribunal, as it seemed to us many years ago, the country justice. But in later days, when we are old," he added in a fine Shakesperean vein, "when the hose are a world too wide for the shrunken calves, when the eyes weep amber, when the head is white as the driven snow by the flight of time, when we are old men, as I and the gentleman from Florida, we ought not to indulge in that kind of reprehensible practice."

A prolonged outburst of laughter and applause rewarded the sage Iowan for his splendidly worded criticism.

"Ah, for a saucer of that old maple sirup of my childhood! Compounded of the glorious sunshine of the hills of old New England and the sweet water of mountain rills! The rich offering of the virgin forest! Brewed in nature's secret retort! The benison of bountiful nature to the palate of"—

"Point of order!" cried a voice, and Senator Platt of Connecticut awoke to the fact that he was becoming poetical on the floor of the senate, says the Chicago Inter Ocean's Washington representative. This isn't allowed.

Mr. Platt had been carried back to the days of his boyhood on a farm by the debate on pure food. He had opposed any law to render maple sirup uniform.

"Alas," he began, "it is almost impossible to obtain the pure, delicious maple sirup of our childhood. That which we get from Vermont," he said, "is so etherealized and sublimated that it's worthless."

The other senators sympathized, but had to agree that he was right.

Representative Sidney Mudd of Maryland has a small boy who goes to a public school, says the Washington representative of the New York World. A few days ago Mrs. Mudd met the representative at the door when he came to dinner and told him, in horrified tones, that she had discovered the son and heir of the Mudd family matching pennies with some ragamuffins on the street.

"Son," said Representative Mudd, bringing the small boy before the stern bar of the paternal justice, "is it true that you have been engaged in that gambling game known as matching pennies?"

"'Deed I have, daddy," replied the Mudd youngster.

"I think," said Mr. Mudd, "that it is my duty to give you a sound whipping for this act, for you know how bitterly opposed I am to such a species of gambling."

"Well, father," said the boy, "I know I ought not to have been matching pennies, but I'll go you head or tails for two wax vestas or none."

"May the saints preserve ye," said an old woman in Washington who had been given quarter by Representative Cooper of Wisconsin, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, "an' may every hair of your head be a candle to light your way to glory."

"Well, it won't be such a dodgasted torchlight procession at that," Mr. Cooper muttered as a gust of wind took off his hat, showing a shining crown.

Once there was a thoughtless alligator which captured a dog and, despite its pleas, ate it.

Now, the next day a dealer in leathers came along and shot the alligator and skinned it and made its hide into purses and gripsacks.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

THE REACTION.

One day a fellow fell in love—
A risky thing to do
It made him feel almost above
The common earthly crew.
He walked on air about the town,
In bliss all day sawed wood,
But when the lady threw him down
He didn't feel so good.

A lucky gentleman once found
A million dollar mine,
And for a week he went around
Swelled up and feeling fine,
But when he went to get his toll,
Or, rather, ore, to crush,
And found it was a salted hole
He didn't feel so flush.

A schemer with a chicken farm
Saw dollars, dimes and such—
In fact, he felt a slight alarm
That he would have too much,
But as the price of eggs went high
One chilly winter day
The fellow didn't feel so spry
When not a hen would lay.

Alas, 'twas ever thus, I fear!
We light a fat cigar,
And in the wreaths of smoke appear
Wealth, love and fame at par,
But soon the fullest pipe goes out,
And then, alack, the flood
That was to come goes up the spout,
And thus our name is mud.

Better or Worse.

As a side light on this controversy that rages more or less fiercely at all times as to whether the world is growing better or worse it might be mentioned that no one ever stole an umbrella before the sixteenth century.

In those good old times no man knew the joy of taking out a fine silk umbrella that cost a five spot and coming home with a forty-nine cent article that had been left in place of it when he left it in a corner and turned away for a minute to talk to a man.

No one printed on his sunshade "Stolen From Bill Jones" in order to shame the umbrella thief, and they never saw in a paper an advertisement like this: "The man who took the silk umbrella from Brown's drug store would better bring it home, as he is well known."

It might be noted in passing that umbrellas were not invented before the sixteenth century.

Two of a Kind.

Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
Shining in the blue afar.
Able men of science hold
You are very, very old—
Several centuries, I guess,
Something like it, more or less—
In the distant blue afar
You remind me, little star,
In your twinkle and your age
Of the star upon the stage.

The Burning Question.

"Is it a problem play she is out with?"

"Yes, indeed; the problem is how to raise enough to pay railroad fare from one stand to the next."

Alone Constructively.

"What becomes of the hero of 'Alone In a Big City?'"

"He gets squeezed to death in a street car jam."

A Possible Lapse.

We read of George, erect and plumb,
Who never told a lie.
But are we sure he didn't some-
Times wink the other eye?

When the Cash Is Gone.

"It isn't very hard work to start a paper."

"No, but it is so much easier to stop one."

There is nothing to prevent people who sigh for the good old times from turning off the electric light and lighting a few candles.

ANNIVERSARY

OF PYTHIANISM CELEBRATED HERE TUESDAY NIGHT.

An Interesting Program Carried Out by Newark Members—Judge E. M. P. Brister Presided.

The forty-first anniversary of the establishment of the great order of the Knights of Pythias was appropriately celebrated by Newark Lodge. No. 13, on Thursday night.

The preliminary meeting to organize the order of Knights of Pythias, was held in the Temperance hotel in Washington, D. C., on February 19, 1864, by Justine H. Rathbone and his six or eight associates. The meeting adjourned to the evening of February 23, 1864, just 41 years ago Thursday night, when the final organization of the order was established and Washington Lodge, No. 1, Knights of Pythias was founded. From that small beginning the order has grown until it now numbers thousands of lodges with a membership of 600,000, scattered over the United States and the civilized world. The great benefit to humanity that has been done by this noble order during the forty-one years of its existence in the way of paying sick and funeral benefits, and the financial assistance it has rendered its members, is simply incalculable, to say nothing of the moral benefit to the order and the world, to the high standard of manhood and living that it inculcates.

Newark Lodge, No. 13, Knights of Pythias, as its number indicates, is one of the oldest lodges in the order.

The present charter of Newark lodge bears the date of January 20, 1870, with the following list of charter members: James B. Miller, D. Swisher, Mathew NewKirk, J. W. Drone, Al Ball, Wm. Bell Jr., George J. Abbott, Henry Wilkin N. M. Lamb and Edward Nichols all of whom with probably three exceptions, have passed into the great beyond.

Newark Lodge has passed through various vicissitudes as all such organizations do, but its history has been one of constant progress, and it stands today one of the largest and most prosperous Pythian lodges in Ohio, with a membership of about 400, and a large capital of surplus money safely invested.

At the meeting on Thursday night the regular business of the lodge was first transacted with closed doors, after which the lodge room was thrown open to the visitors, each member beattended by one gentleman friend.

A sumptuous banquet and a very enjoyable social session followed. The menu was first class, as all the spreads of old No. 13 are.

Judge E. M. P. Brister was selected as toastmaster, and presided very acceptably over the banquet, making a brief speech, reciting the wonderful history of the order and recollections of old No. 13, and introducing each subsequent speaker in a very happy manner. Following is the list of the speakers and the toasts they responded to:

Henry Pfeffer, Deputy G. C. C., "The Grand Lodge."

E. S. Franklin, "The Uniform Rank."

T. V. Rutledge, "How to Keep up Interest in the Lodge."

F. S Wilson, "Fraternity."

T. W. Brandt, "A Newcomer's View."

Harry Payne, song, "Dear Old Girl," and for an encore Mr. Payne sang very sweetly, "Please Mr. Conductor."

Thomas J. Hughes, "Reminiscenses of Old No. 13."

R. B. Shawhan, "Sick Benefits."

S. H. Beadle, "New Water Works, When?"

G. W. Horton, "Benefits of Pythianism."

Carl Martin, "Divorce Reform."

Frank Place, "Why I Like the K. of P.'s"

Harry Payne, song, "An Old Sweetheart of Mine."

The entire occasion was a delightful success and will certainly give a new impetus to the cause of Pythianism in Newark.

Jesse Wilson, chancellor commander of the lodge, presided.

Among the older members of the lodge in Newark may be named John Tucker, M. L. Theurer, George L. Warner and Henry Baker.

Coshocton, Feb. 24—A family reunion was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Smith of Coshocton. There were four generations on each side of the Smith family present. The mothers of both Mr. and Mrs. Smith were present, also their children, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

AT LIMA

General Manager Harrigan Discussed Question of Interchangeable Baggage on Trolley Lines.

General Manager J. R. Harrigan of the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company and the Columbus, Newark and Zanesville electric road, discussed the question of an interchangeable baggage system for all Ohio interurbans at the meeting of the Ohio Interurban Railway association, at Lima, on Thursday afternoon.

The morning session of the association was taken up with the admission of thirty new members and discussion of the interchangeable mileage bureau. The applications of the Springfield, Charleston, Washington and Chillicothe Traction company, the Toledo and Indiana and the Dayton and Muncie roads, to be admitted to the bureau were acted upon favorably.

Interurban Associaton.

Lima, O., Feb. 24.—The Ohio Interurban Railway association met here with 60 representatives present from Cleveland, Columbus, Toledo, Dayton, Springfield, Newark and Delta, O. The association agreed to handle 150 pounds of baggage free of charge, with interchange privilege on all lines in the association, which now includes more than three-fourths of the traction roads in the state.

RESOLUTION.

We, the members of Retail Clerks' Local No. 178, do hereby resolve that we will refrain from patronizing, and use our influence in the different unions of this city, in regard to the handling and raffling of merchandise in different business places, shops, etc., not conducting a retail store for sale of the same, to the protection of home trade and the merchants of Newark.

CHADWICK GEMS

In Possession of Comptroller of the Currency Were Not Smuggled as Was Suspected.

Washington. Feb. 24.—C. F. Leach. collector of customs at Cleveland. O., was at the treasury department and reported to Secretary Shaw that his inquiries at the New York customs house tended to show that the emeralds which once belonged to Mrs. Chadwick and now in the possession of the comptroller of currency were not smuggled into the country, as was suspected. It is suspected that the jewels will be attached as an asset of the failed bank, where they were pledged for a loan.
